THE END OF 1930

A Note of Optimism

By S. G. RAYMENT,
EDITOR, Kinematograph Weekly.

IN a year which the kinematograph business has devoted to consolidation and development rather than to the staging of spectacular upheavals, an extraordinarily difficult period, both in national and trade history, has been bridged over with amazing success.

Largely, no doubt, owing to the severe tests which had been inflicted during the previous two years, but also, of course, to a really strict attention to the demands of the public, it has been possible to maintain to some extent those increases of patronage which we all regarded as only temporary reactions to the novelty of the talkie appeal.

Naturally, the peak attendances of the days when talkies were in their first flush could not be held; they were in any case almost fictitious, when due consideration was given to the fact that many people who crowded the newly-equipped houses did so at the expense of those which remained silent. These same people, by the way, were for a long time frankly contemptuous in their criticisms of the sound picture, but the tale the box-office told was final proof. The great point was that they came, and continued to come.

As a consequence the increase of business, if slight, has been general, as distinct from the previous year's experience, when it was local. But any exhibitor in the land can prove by his figures that his outgoings have risen far more rapidly than his revenue, and to restore matters to a more generally equitable basis has been the anxious thought of all.

Of course the renter has been the first object in the search for a possible readjustment of terms which would enable the kinema proprietor to keep his profits at something like the same ratio to his income as he had been accustomed to count upon.

There was at one time a widespread demand for a return to the old flat rate for booking pictures. The percentage system, however, proved itself, and must now be accepted as part of the normal machinery by which the Trade carries on.

With so great a proportion of houses paying heavy instalments on their talking picture equipment and looking forward to a long period punctuated by regular payments in this direction, the terms of film hire were felt to be very onerous, and during the year it was necessary for the renters to take vigorous action in certain cases where the returns had been falsely made.

The Battle of the Guarantees

There were regrettable lapses which marked a not too peaceful period. The big fight between the distributing and the exhibiting sides of the business was on the subject of guarantees and disc charges. The growing dissatisfaction felt by exhibitors with the system under which films were booked on sharing terms with a guaranteed minimum payment culminated in a definite and unanimous resolution, taken at the Summer Conference of the C.E.A., to refuse business with firms making this demand.

Feeling was very strong upon this point, and the question of disc charges was allied to it in the agitation, for there was a distinct sense of grievance when a man who had hired a picture was called upon to pay a separate sum for the record which was actually an integral part of the show.

The two points were linked together in the campaign which was inaugurated in July and culminated in a series of visits paid by an exhibitors' deputation to all the renting firms. In almost every case the result was a satisfactory agreement, one or two firms—of which Wardour was the first—announcing their decision to drop these features even before they were approached. Paramount, on the other hand, declined to come into line and quite late in the year reaffirmed its determination to adhere to its demand for guarantees on account of its commitments with American headquarters.

Despite this clash, and the continued inability to see eye to eye on the matter of prices, the two branches of the Trade worked well together during the year, and as it drew to a close there were evidences of a rather unusual spirit of co-operation being brought about. The Renters' Sound Inspection Committee, thanks to which we may say that reproduction achieved its maximum of quality in remarkably little time in every wired house throughout the country, has a successor in the shape of a joint committee formed towards the end of the year to adjust differences between the two sides.

So long had people been talking in a general way about the get-together spirit that many felt a genuine co-operative action to be a Utopian hope rather than an obvious need. It is therefore highly satisfactory to chronicle the birth of this committee and the broad-minded attitude which brought it into active operation.

Under the title of the Joint Investigation Committee its function is to adjust those difficulties which must arise between buyers and sellers, particularly in so involved a trade as ours, when conditions vary from district to district and bargaining is the basis of the whole business.

The idea is primarily aimed at helping the small exhibitor, who has, of course, been hardest hit by the talking equipment costs and the rise in film hire. He has, as a rule, less room for expansion, and therefore finds it far more difficult to make increased returns to balance increased expenses.

Now, when conditions threaten to become intolerable, he has a court of appeal. He can state his case before this joint committee with a reasonable expectation of receiving sympathy and justice. As it was only formed at the close of the year the results of its work can hardly be assessed, but the general principles underlying its constitution are so well in accord with the best ideas of mutual understanding that all who have any difficulties to clear up will undoubtedly wish to take advantage of this newly organised machinery.

The Small Man

Its chief appeal of course, will be to the small man, and with a view to the proper preparation of the ground the C.E.A. invited a return from all halls whose takings averaged less than £150 a week. Although it was guaranteed that the information required would be kept strictly confidential, repeated reminders had to be given to the proprietors most concerned. Eventually it was hoped sufficient data would be collected to enable the new committee to do really useful work.

It should, of course, be recognised that the hardships experienced during the year were by no means limited to one side. Inaccurate returns have been furnished in several instances by exhibitors, as a result of which the total amount to be divided with the renters has been falsely represented. Sharp action has followed and has even reached the police court. Offenders against ordinary business ethics will never be shielded, but there certainly are hard cases, and these will be given consideration.

To help the small man is really the prime need, for he has suffered most in the recent period of transition. But it is clear that his special needs are being attended to in another direction besides the actual film booking problems for which the Joint Investigation Committee has been primarily designed.

Practically every house seating a thousand and upwards having been wired for talking films, the firms responsible for the equipment have turned from what may be called the Rolls Royce to the Austin Seven market. There is now in circulation an admirable series of models available at economic prices which kinemas seating seven or eight hundred can use with excellent results. On the whole the national turnover to sound films is well on the way to completion.

Much anxiety has been felt during the year about another upheaval in the direction of the wide film. Four separate devices have been tried out in the States, but either from mechanical imperfections or from business reasons they have by no means swept the exhibitors there off their feet. The natural demand that standardisation should be effected as an essential preliminary has not been met, and until it is there is little expectation of a forward move in this direction.

The most hopeful development in this field is an English invention which, by an attachment to the camera, reduces the wide field—double the normal—to a picture on standard stock. Another attachment to the projector corrects this, and enables a wide picture to be thrown, although every other detail in the physical production of the film is entirely regular. The convenience and economy of Fulvue certainly promises well.

An International Pact

One step in the direction of general understanding between competitors which was bound to have far-reaching consequences was the settlement of areas arranged between the representatives of the German and American electrical and film industries, who met in conference at Paris, in June and July.

Their agreement made it possible for studios in all countries to obtain licences to produce under both German and American patents, and provided for the interchangeability of motion pictures in all countries and upon all makes of licensed apparatus of the parties.

The full value of this pact can hardly be estimated yet, but it certainly means an end of the old system by which American or German producers were each barred from entry into the other's markets. The spirit behind the negotiations is indicated by a sentence in the report: "these interests seek the world-wide development of the motion picture industry."

The Sunday Fight

Our usual pre-Christmas thrill was furnished by a big fight on Sunday opening. The London theatrical interests had long been jealous of the big attendances enjoyed by the kinemas on Sunday evenings and inspired an action against the L.C.C., as a result of which the latter's action in sanctioning film exhibitions was declared illegal, under the Sunday Observance Act of 1780. This is, at the moment of writing, the subject of an appeal, and the owners of the kinemas affected are carrying on.

The C.E.A. has come whole-heartedly to the support of the campaign for freedom, but as the Courts have given a definite ruling upon the intent of the Act it is expected that any final settlement must be in the direction of new legislation.

New Theatres

In theatre-building a year of unparalleled expansion has to be recorded. In every part of the country, small and large towns alike have added to their resources by erecting well-designed and equipped kinemas, and London has led the way. Something like two hundred new houses have been opened, and the people who are responsible for them have a fairly good idea of the public support they may anticipate. We have in this fact a final proof of the conquering kinema. It is important to remember that these new houses are object lessons in construction, decoration and appointments and as such they not only enhance the status of the Trade wherever they may be, but they prove the confidence of their proprietors in the future growth of this form of entertainment.

Our Studio Output

In connection with this evidence of public support the most heartening feature of all is the genuine and well-earned welcome which is nowadays accorded to British pictures. It only seems a short time ago that the showman, as good a patriot as anybody else, would obliterate from his posters any indication that a film was British. He knew.

Well, those days are over. Our studios are giving some of the most attractive and entertaining pictures that can be seen, pictures that people really want to see. Curiously enough, we have come out on top in a department which we at one time used to look upon almost as the prescriptive right of the American producers, for our full-length comedies, in essentially British settings, have established a position of their own and are fit attractions to appear on the best programmes.

They have been criticised because a large proportion of them are film versions of stage plays, and the purist will have it that they are not true screen art. The purist however, has always been the worst possible guide to public reaction and we may well be satisfied with the reception our pictures have earned, particularly in a year rich in good attractions. On many grounds we have had a remarkably good year in film fare, and the way in which our home product has been able to hold its own is a very fine achievement.

The most critical commentators on the Quota clauses in the Films Act have had the ground cut from under their feet by the unquestionable success of our product, and it is important to realise that while our biggest production units have kept up a fine output the smaller studios have done extremely well. Had the quality of British pictures been in 1926 what it is to-day there would have been no need for the Quota Act.

In the actual administration of this Act, with its direct contacts with each branch of the Industry, every honour should be paid to the Advisory Board which serves as a liaison office between the Government and the Trade. Its work has been done behind closed doors, and in most quarters its activity has hardly been appreciated, but it has been ceaselessly carrying on its duty of explaining, guiding and watching during all those difficult times when the best regulations, rigorously administered, might bring hardship, and when, on the other hand, the most plausible pleas needed shrewd analysis.

Overseas Sales

Of all the achievements that have been heralded in the year, the improved position of our product in the overseas market has actually been the most far-reaching. For years America has protested that she was willing to welcome British pictures on their merits, but none were found to measure up to her standards, and we on this side were inclined to sit down under the disappointment and nurse our inferiority complex.

In 1930, however, we really broke down the barrier, and, thanks to the courage and persistence of one or two undaunted individuals, we look over the Atlantic at the end of the year to see quite a fair sprinkling of our best pictures being shown, and appreciated, in the States.

Now it's a poor vicious circle that won't work both ways. In the old days we were told that in view of our failure to sell in America we had so much the less income to meet our negative costs. Therefore every picture we made was, in comparison with the best product from the other side, made with so anxious an eye to economy that the most imaginative and intelligent work of our directors was hampered. To-day we may reasonably hope that the converse will apply. We know that obvious cheapness is the worst characteristic of a picture, and must therefore give all honour to the men who have not stinted their directors. Now, if we can make the average British picture well enough to earn a proportion of its costs in the United States, we can really consider we are on the footing to which we are entitled.

At present only the cream of our product is acceptable in America, but with the sinews of war fortified by the tonic of transatlantic trade we may reasonably look forward to a far bigger proportion of our films bringing back some tangible form of appreciation.

Our Stars

There is one avenue which I do not think has yet been fully explored, and that is the definite development and popularisation of our own acting talent. Far too many of our artists are taken up for a time, taught the groundwork of the highly specialised branch of their profession in our studios, and then allowed to drift over to Hollywood, where the studio executives are always ready to give a chance to capable men and girls who know how to speak English. Our own openings should be so attractive that when we have the right people we should be able to use them and to give them such encouragement that Hollywood's beckoning finger would fail to tempt.

The advantages, from a national point of view, that are presented by the increase in quality and quantity of our own productions are immeasurable. The unconscious propaganda effected by pictures breathing British scenes, British sentiment and British ideals can hardly be estimated, but some conception of its value is afforded by the achievements of the American films.

When one recalls the enthusiastic reception that was given at the gala performance of British pictures by the Dominion delegates to the Imperial Conference, the way to a progressive popularity, wherever the English language is spoken, is indicated, and with our producers facing the fact that their watchword must be "entertainment values first" that day is drawing rapidly nearer.

THE YEAR IN AMERICA.

BY THE NEW YORK CORRESPONDENT

of the Kinematograph Weekly.

THE fourth year of the sound era finds the American industry well settled in the technical grooves of production and reproduction. Although there is still great room for improvement in the presentation of sound pictures in theatres, the handling of the new mechanism has become less and less of a mystery, and "good sound," in any theatre worthy the name, is now the rule rather than the exception. The wiring of houses goes on apace. Some 8,000 installations have now been made, according to latest figures, and the unwired house is rapidly passing.

From the production viewpoint, the technique of sound, so far as the mechanics go, is in excellent condition. But as to the type of picture which is best fitted to sound, there is still considerable range of opinion, as there doubtless will be, always. Here, just as emphatically as in the silent era, the public decides, but the public doesn't decide until after it has seen and heard, so the hazards of production are just as great as they ever were.

The "Musical" Invasion

One notable development of the year, however, has been the great recession of interest in "musicals." For some reason, which now seems quite illogical, the industry, in the first flush of the sound revolution, decided that the fate of the strange new thing was somehow hinged pretty largely on music, probably because the picture that brought the revolution, "The Jazz Singer," was song, in its great effects, and only dialogue in one sequence, and that confined to two sentences. The result was, of course, that every picture had to have a theme song, and the public was thought to be very keen to see musical comedies and extravaganzas. This cycle definitely wore itself out, before the producers realised it. Consequently, some of the most expensive productions of 1930, which were "musicals," did not get very far at the box office, and some of them were total failures. The argument still rages, however, as to whether the public wants "musicals" at all. And the answer seems to be, as always, that it all depends on how the thing is done. As this is written, "Whoopie," a "musical," if there ever was one, is clicking at the box office. It is Eddie Cantor plus Ziegfeld, and obviously has something most of the other later ones didn't have.

As the "musical" era waned, the straight dramatic dialogue pictures came to the front. William Powell, playing the detective or crook story to perfection, rose to great eminence. Ruth Chatterton continued her great vogue as a dramatic actress. Greta Garbo talking is no less popular than Greta Garbo silent. Ann Harding, recruited from the legitimate stage, went into the first flight of stars in "Holiday." These are only examples of personalities the public clamours to see. There are many more. On the other hand, the spectacle, no less than the intimate drama, scored when it was superlatively well done. An outstanding instance is "All Quiet on the Western Front," Remarque's war story put remorselessly on the screen as he wrote it, and a great box office success.

While the intimate drama, virtually without the physical action that made the movies a world industry, had its great appeal for the public, the swing back to what is called "motion picture" was marked. The Westerns, which fell by the wayside not so long after the advent of sound, were, in 1930, rediscovered. For one thing, the producers suddenly came to the realisation that the tremendous child audience had been pretty largely alienated by dialogue pictures, and this loss could not be sustained indefinitely. So the larger companies are going back to big scale Westerns, one of the best examples at hand being "The Big Trail." Even the serial came back and with a bang. "The Indians Are Coming" made history. It was the first chapter play ever to be shown first run on Broadway, making its debut at the cathedral of all picture houses—the Roxy. Talk is, of course, used extensively in these "action" pictures, but it is not the whole show, and is being allowed to fall into its proper place as a dramatic agent, instead of being merely talk for the sake of talk.

So far as the permanence of dialogue is concerned, the opinion is now pretty well established that "the silent picture is gone for ever." There are prophets galore who will stick to that belief, but there are others who maintain that certain types of stories can be done in silence far more effectively than in sound. The whole industry is waiting to see what will happen when Chaplin's "City Lights" is released. Of course, it is non-dialogue, but there is only one Chaplin. Still it would not be surprising if there were something of a rush back to silence if the picture is a tremendous sensation at the box office.

The Alien Tongue

The problem of "foreign versions" is still a vexed one. The solution has not yet been found. In some instances, the foreign market is supplied with the American dialogue versions, plus subtitles in the language of the country of release. In others, the picture is "dubbed" by having the lip-movement of the Hollywood folk matched up with lines spoken in a foreign language. But the belief that the "foreign language problem" will be solved only by producing special versions, with players imported from Europe to Hollywood, is growing, and the result is that several of the big studios on the Coast are bringing actors and actresses from abroad. The additional expense entailed is, of course, great, but America's stake in the foreign market is something that cannot be dispensed with.

Wall Street's Influence

So much for the main lines of activity in the production field. On the business side, the year was marked by one major upheaval—the retirement of William Fox from the company which he established. This was the final outcome of a battle, waged chiefly by big financial interests, and in itself one of the most dramatic stories in the spectacular history of the industry. Before the situation was settled, so many different kinds of litigation had been entered upon, that close observers themselves could not keep track of the lawsuits. But Mr. Fox "lost control of his company," as the saying is, by remaining as a member of the board of directors at a reputed salary of $500,000 a year for a stipulated period, and was succeeded by Harley L. Clarke, as President. It was, moreover, a year without mergers. This was contrary to the predictions, generally made at the close of 1929, that within a twelvemonth there would be only two or three major companies left. Whether these predictions will eventually come to pass remains to be seen, but there can be no question that the map of the industry to-day would be quite different if it had not been for the stock market "crash" in the closing months of 1929, and the succeeding industrial depression from which the country has not yet emerged.

The chaining-up of theatres reached what may be called a condition of stabilisation. That is to say, the big producer-distributor companies finally came to the view that it would not be profitable to control all, or even a majority of the theatres in America, assuming that this could be done. Only certain types of houses—chiefly the de luxe first-runs and the scarcely less de luxe "neighbourhoods"—can be operated at a profit in a big national circuit. This means, for one thing, that the independent exhibitor still has a place in the sun, provided he maintains a thoroughly modern theatre. The same thing applies to the independent with a circuit. The question of "protection" is still far from being settled, and this is of major importance in the relation of producer-owned circuits to the independents. The Allied States Association of Exhibitors, headed by Abram F. Myers, formerly of the Federal Trade Commission, is pressing for a solution of the problem.

The Exhibitors' Contract

After considerable preliminary skirmishing, a new form of standard exhibition contract was agreed upon at conferences between distributor members of the Hays organisation, the Allied and other exhibitor bodies, and it now appears that this much-discussed question will be settled before the end of the year. The formal ratification by the state organisations in the Allied is still to be given, but apparently it will come.

On the whole, then, Nineteen-Thirty was a year of distinct progress, despite the fact that the country was in the throes of the business depression. The essential stability of the American industry was shown by the fact that it weathered the depression, probably with reduced aggregate receipts, but without being seriously damaged. This was accomplished, in part, by the reduction of overhead, as always happens in a period of general business uncertainty.

Wide Film Obstacles

As Nineteen-Thirty-one comes into view, the major problems on the horizon appear to be those of wide-film, or perhaps more accurately, wide-screen, and third dimension. All the major companies are at work, through their technicians, on these, and it remains to be seen who will hit upon the most workable processes. That, however, is only one side of the problem. Just as important, if not more so, is the big question-mark of whether or not the industry, only a little more than three years away from the sound revolution, is going to let itself in for another tremendous upheaval. The Society of Motion Picture Engineers, which is doing notable work in the technical field, ruled out discussion of wide-film until the industry gets itself organised on standard width. In some quarters, it is pointed out that the change-over to sound cost the industry a tremendous sum—variously estimated at $250,000,000 to nearly twice that amount—and the wide-film, if generally adopted, would result in another enormous expenditure.

There is always the possibility, however, that the public may suddenly "go" for some one picture on 70 mm. film, and the rush would then start to meet the demand. After the experience with sound, however, it appears likely that such an eventuality is remote.

THE YEAR IN AUSTRALIA.

By KATHLEEN USSHER.

TRADER depression in Australia called a halt to the extensive kinema-building of the previous year, and led to a working agreement between the two largest circuits, Union Theatres, Ltd., and Hoyts, Ltd. (controlling jointly 250 houses), not to build against each other, and also to a merger of their interests as regards bookings. The widespread unemployment throughout the major towns was also responsible for a 40 per cent. cut in admission prices. Under these circumstances, no noticeable drop in kinema attendances was experienced. Five times as many people attended the pictures as went to all other forms of amusement combined; or a total of, roughly, 125,000,000 persons; that is, every man, woman and child in the Commonwealth went to the kinema on an average 20 times a year.

As elsewhere, the triumphant march of the talkies swept all before it. The stage was seriously menaced, and Fullers, Ltd., the old-established variety circuit, found it necessary to wire their houses or go out of business. The following legitimate theatres (seating capacities in parenthesis) were among those wired: Empire, Brisbane (1,400); Victoria, Newcastle (1,400); Roxy, Sydney (1,500); Roxy, Newtown (2,000); Palace, Melbourne (1,600); Gaiety, Melbourne (1,000); Majestic, Adelaide (1,400); and His Majesty's, Perth (2,000). Fullers also control the Capitol, Perth (2,000); Empire, Sydney (3,000); and the Capitol, Melbourne (2,500), as well as many suburban and provincial independent theatres. Associated with their change-over to talkies is the powerful Tait-Williamson chain, which featured film revues (chiefly M.-G.-M.) in place of stage shows, retaining only four touring companies to play in such of their theatres as remained available.

Nearly one-fourth of Australia's 1,300 kinemas are now wired for talkies, principally with American apparatus, Western Electric being well in the lead with 277 installations up to October. By the beginning of 1931, it is anticipated that 750 cinemas will be equipped for sound. Ten competitive sets are operating in Australia, but the largest total reached by any one local manufacturer is 37.

In the course of the year, 823 feature films were imported into Australia. Of these, 713 came from the United States, and 61 from the United Kingdom, showing an increase over the previous year of 6 per cent. in the case of American films and a decrease of 4 per cent. in the case of British films. Censorship was exercised with drastic effect, only 39 per cent. of the films being passed without cuts, nearly 52 per cent. having pieces cut out, and 9 per cent. being rejected. On appeal, the rejections were reduced to 5½ per cent. The proportion of British feature films rejected was nearly double that of American. In addition, 22 "talkie shorts" were rejected as "undesirable." Owing to the control of the film industry being divided between six different States, no system of classification has yet been devised whereby pictures may be marked, "suitable for general exhibition," or otherwise. Onus of responsibility, therefore, rests with the Film Censor for maintaining a uniform moral standard for young and old alike, and probably accounts for the banning of certain films designed for the more discriminating audiences. Among the British films banned were "White Cargo," "The Informer," "Knowing Men," "The Lady from the Sea," "The W Plan," "Murder," "Suspense," and "Young Woodley" (although the play had been fully performed on the stage). The decision of the Censor in the case of the five last-named films has since been reversed.

Anyone who doubts that the Australian public really wants British talkies had only to note the audience reaction to "Splinters" and "Rookery Nook." The former ran for seven weeks in Melbourne and eight weeks in Sydney, the latter for eleven weeks in Melbourne and five weeks in Sydney. "At the Villa Rose," "Sleeping Partners," and "At the House of the Arrow" also did good business. Australian rights to these productions were held by British Dominion Films, Ltd. (of Australia), whose merger with Greater Australasian Films gives wide distribution over a ten-year period to the output of Gaumont, British Instructional, Gainsborough, British and Dominion, and Nettlefolds. Following its presentation to Members of the Australian Legislative Council, the British International picture, "Atlantic," had a record run at the St. James' Theatre, Sydney. Union Theatres subsequently agreed to take the whole output of B.I.P., including shorts, for a period of two years, a 25 per cent. rejection clause to cover any films rejected by the Censorship. About 40 features and 12 shorts are involved in the deal, which carries with it a revenue of not less than £60,000 a year. Through Union Theatres' affiliation with Hoyts, Ltd., and Australasian Films (Malaya), Ltd., this contract ensures distribution in 80 additional theatres in Australia as well as bookings in the Federated Malay States, Siam, the Dutch East Indies, and Singapore (Straits Settlements).

A major development of the year was the acquisition by the Fox Corporation of America of a large interest in Hoyts Theatres, the company holding the rights in their Grandeur screen. This transaction is the first direct incursion of foreign capital into the picture-exhibiting business of the Commonwealth. In order to counteract any bias against American control, Fox are making extensive plans for the production of talkies in Australia, and have taken over His Majesty's Theatre, Sydney, with the object of converting it into the first talkie studio.

Notwithstanding rumours to the contrary, Union Theatres, Ltd., is not associated with any deal with the Paramount Publix Corporation. It still remains an Australian company, and has organised an Empire production unit, the putput of which would be released in the United Kingdom under the auspices of British International Pictures.

Of the 746,291 feet of film exported from the Commonwealth, 624,380 feet were distributed in the British Empire, representing an increase of 30 per cent. over the previous year.

Australian features acquired by American renters to fulfil their British Quota obligations included "Tall Timber," an Australasian Films production; "Kingdom of Twilight," Alexander Macdonald's film of the Gulf Territory; the McDonagh Sisters' "Far Paradise" (all for Universal); "Jewelled Nights," with Louise Lovely (M.-G.-M.); and "The Russell Affair," with Jessica Harcourt (Fox). All these films are "silent," and are several years old.

New productions included "The Cheaters," made at the Bondi Studios by the McDonagh Sisters; "Talkie Mad," a talkie-revue, directed by Norman Dawn, who made the £50,000 film, "For the Term of His Natural Life," which has not yet been shown in the United Kingdom; and "Fellows," the film of the Australian Light Horse in Palestine, which was awarded the third prize, £1,500, offered by the Commonwealth Government to encourage local production.

Dissatisfaction among Australian producers regarding this means of stimulating film-making led to a deputation waiting upon the Assistant Minister for Industry, urging the abandonment of the £100,000 annual prizes, and the alternative provision of a national studio, fully equipped with sound-recording apparatus, which would be available, either at a rental of £100 to £200 a day, or on a percentage of the gross earnings of each film made there; the cost of the studio to be defrayed from the tax on foreign films, which yields approximately £25,000 a year, and out of which the expenses of maintaining the film censorship are now met.

NEW ZEALAND.—In addition to the Company Tax on net profits (assessed at 12½ per cent. of turnover) the New Zealand Government has recently imposed an ad valorem tax on gross turnover of 10 per cent. on British films, and 25 per cent. on foreign films. The penny footage tariff has been rescinded.

CANADA DURING 1930.

BY CAPT. W. M. GLADISH.

THE past calendar year in Canadian film trade and theatre circles has been replete with many developments, some of a startling nature, while there has been a definite movement towards perfection in moving picture entertainment in which British producers have played a real part. This is intended as a plain statement of fact and not merely as something to please the British reader because, strange as it may seem, British films are now really considered worth while in the Dominion.

The outstanding historical event of the past 12 months was the absorption of Famous Players Canadian Corp., Toronto, by Paramount-Publix Corporation of the United States through an exchange of stock which some regarded as being one-sided. The offer from Paramount-Publix precipitated a battle which occupied much space in the newspapers for weeks and eventually reached the floor of the House of Commons at Ottawa. The crisis was featured by the resignations of three directors of the Canadian chain, namely, N. L. Nathanson, who had been managing director since its start; Sir Herbert Holt, Montreal multi-millionaire, and Hon. W. D. Ross, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. On the day that the option of stock transfer expired, Adolph Zukor quietly announced, however, that sufficient shares had been deposited to insure control of the mammoth Canadian chain by Paramount-Publix.

In October there was an echo of the shareholders' battle when Hon. G. D. Robertson, Federal Minister of Labour, Ottawa, announced the appointment of Peter White, K.C., Toronto, as a commissioner to investigate the affairs of Famous Players Canadian Corp., and moving picture business conditions generally under the Combines Act—and Famous Players officials announced they welcomed the inquiry.

For some weeks there were rumours upon rumours that N. L. Nathanson planned an alliance with William Fox and Gaumont to build rival theatres across the Dominion to fight Famous Players, but Fox found trouble enough at home in the United States and the situation cooled off with the news that Nathanson had agreed to stay out of the cinema business for five years, it is said.

British film productions definitely made a better impression among theatre-goers and managers in Canada than for years past. For several seasons there had been a tendency on the part of exhibitors to camouflage the fact that the odd feature attraction was British but the situation has completely changed during the past 12 months. Canadian feeling changed with the presentation of "High Treason" which was heralded as the first big British talking feature. Then came "Atlantic," "Splinters," "Balaclava," "One Embarassing Night," "Loose Ends" and other British specials, several of which actually played as road shows at $1.50 top in Toronto and Montreal before being released for regular runs. "A Throw of the Dice" played four weeks at one theatre in Montreal and this achievement was only equalled by "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "Whoopee." The talking version of "Alf's Button" also had a good start at Montreal in the fall with a two weeks' engagement. These were all openly and proudly proclaimed as British productions and were shown at the big cinemas with much success. Evidently the tide is turning in the Dominion with regard to public attitude toward films from the Motherland and other parts of the Empire.

A feature of 1930 was, of course, the continued wiring of theatres for dialogue and sound films and towards the end of the year official announcement was made by the Motion Picture Distributors' Association of Canada that more than 600 of the 1,000 cinemas in the country had been completely equipped. It was pointed out that this ratio was considerably higher than the proportion of wired theatres in Australia.

The wiring of theatres meant the passing of more musicians out of the picture while vaudeville also permanently went into the discard at many houses. At one time, there were practically only three theatres in the whole Dominion with vaudeville, these being Shea's Hippodrome at Toronto; the Palace at Hamilton and the Capitol at Winnipeg. This was during the strike of musicians at Montreal, but eventually vaudeville was restored at Loew's Theatre there.

At the same time, there has been another interesting trend in the revival of so-called stage presentations at the Imperial, Toronto, and the Capitol at Montreal, while the promise has been made by Famous Players Canadian Corp., that stage shows will gradually be added to the performance at various other key cities, literally for sake of variety—to provide a difference between rival local houses.

The year saw a distinct improvement in the accommodation and facilities for film renters in different Canadian cities. A magnificent film exchange building was erected at Montreal; another was provided at Calgary; the film building at Toronto was doubled in size and otherwise improved, while plans were laid for an appropriate film building at St. John, N.B., to provide quarters for all local distributor branches. The Canadian Government also saw fit to construct a splendid and completely equipped talking picture studio at Ottawa for the production of its own pictures, the old building, which served the purpose for the previous 10 years, being considered unsafe and inadequate.

The greatest blow of all from censors in Canada during the year was the condemning of the costly "Hell's Angels" by the Ontario Board of Moving Picture Censors on the ground that the production was a reflection upon the personnel of the Air Forces in Great Britain and Canada. Early in the year an important conference was held at Toronto at which representatives of all censor boards in the Dominion discussed standardised practices with trade officials representing the film renters, and this round-table talk undoubtedly had good result.

Independent exhibitor organisations were not active anywhere in Canada during the 12 months and the only indication of organised effort was a meeting of 30 proprietors at which the Ontario Government was asked to provide further relief from the ticket tax. Ontario closed several theatres which were called unsafe and required substantial structural improvements in many others, particularly after the theatre disaster at Paisley, Scotland. The Quebec Government continued to bar all children under 16 years from theatres where pictures were shown but did not enforce the Sunday closing law.

Despite the stock market crash and general business depression, the theatres of Canada did not do badly during 1930. A splendid corrective feature in October was the staging of a Canada-wide Prosperity Week by Famous Players Canadian Corp., with the co-operation of Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, and other Government leaders and business men generally.

There was a normal amount of theatre building during the year, the largest and most costly of the new cinemas being the Capitol at Halifax, N.S., which was reputed to represent an investment of one million dollars. Atmospheric theatres were opened also at Galt, Port Hope, North Bay, Montreal, Renfrew, Pembroke, Arnprior, Toronto and other centres, United Amusements, Limited, being particularly active at Montreal in this connection.

The film-producing industry made little headway in the making of Canadian fiction features, the public looking askance at studio projects by private interests. The Dominion and Ontario Governments continued to turn out a steady supply of sound and talking short subjects.

In a word, normality prevailed and the theatre men of Canada carried on despite a certain degree of financial stringency.

 The logo features the words "NATIONAL SCREEN" in a bold, sans-serif font at the top. Below this, the word "SYNCRO" is written in a very large, stylized font where the letters are interconnected. To the right of "SYNCRO" is a circular emblem containing the words "TALK", "SOUND", "EFFECTS", and "MUSIC" stacked vertically. Below "SYNCRO", the word "TRAILERS" is written in a font that resembles musical notes on a five-line staff.

FILMS REGISTERED UNDER THE ACT.

Official Board of Trade List.

UNDER the new Films Act, Section 6, the Board of Trade must keep a register of films to which the Act applies. By the courtesy of the Editor of the Board of Trade Journal, we are enabled to present a list covering the period from December 3, 1929 to November 28, 1930.

Films, the names of which appear in italics, are parts of series (or serials).

The figures under the heading "Length (feet)" have, in several cases, been altered since the original registration and the corrected figures now appear. Other corrections as notified by the Board of Trade have been made: Br. before the Registered No. indicates a British Film; F., a Foreign film; and E. is British, but not available for British quota.

All are sound films except those specially distinguished—thus † which are silent.

The F.B.I. exists to encourage and develop British manufacturers, and to safeguard the interests of British Manufacturers both at home and abroad. Nothing that concerns the welfare of British industry falls outside its scope.

Special attention given to the encouragement of British film production, having regard to the recognised value of the film as a medium for publicity. The F.B.I. Series of Industrial Films deals with the staple industries of the country, and, as "interest" items in Kinema programmes, are given world-wide distribution.

THE SOLICITOR SUMS UP

The Eye of the Law on 1931

by NORMAN HART, B.A.

Solicitor to the C.E.A.

DURING the year 1930 there has not been very much legislation affecting the Kinematograph industry, but in view of the Paisley disaster, there is no doubt that the Licensing Authorities all over the country have paid much more attention to seeing that conditions on Licences are duly observed, and in many places very stringent conditions have been imposed—conditions specially relating to precautions for the safety of children.

A new regulation affecting licensed premises under the Cinematograph Act with regard to the attendance of children at kinemas has been made by the Home Secretary, and Regulation 3 of the Regulations of July 30, 1923, has been substituted by the following Regulation:—

“(3) (a).—In order to secure the safety of the audience, the licensee or some responsible person nominated by him in writing for the purpose shall be in charge during the whole time of any exhibition and he shall be assisted by a sufficient staff of attendants who shall be specially instructed by the licensee or such responsible person as to their respective duties, in particular in relation to the carrying out of the requirements of these regulations.

“Where at any exhibition the majority of the persons attending are under fourteen years of age the number of attendants required by the foregoing paragraph shall be such as, to enable them effectively to control the movements of the children whilst entering and leaving the premises and during the exhibition and to ensure the orderly and safe clearance of the hall in case of emergency.

“All the attendants shall remain on duty during the whole time that the premises are open to the public.

“(b) All persons responsible for or employed in or in connection with the exhibition shall take all due precautions for the prevention of accidents and shall abstain from any act whatever which tends to cause fire and is not reasonably necessary for the purpose of the exhibition.

“The licensee or the person nominated by him in writing as aforesaid shall see that the operators and every other person who may be called upon to handle inflammable film within the building for any purpose are fully instructed as to the dangers arising from the use of inflammable film, the precautions to be observed to prevent the risk of ignition and the steps to be taken in the event of a film smouldering or catching fire.”

This regulation came into operation on the first day of July, 1930.

Exhibitors should very carefully note the conditions on the licence when granted to them, and in case there are any conditions which they consider to be unfair or unreasonable, should at once get into touch either with myself or with their local solicitor so as to know exactly their position and what they should do with regard to the acceptance of such conditions or what steps should be taken should they wish to contest the validity of such new conditions.

With regard to the Cinematograph Films Act and the Quota, various prosecutions have taken place. Under Section 19, Sub-section (3) of that Act it stated that where any exhibitor fails to comply with the requirements of this part of this Act in respect of any theatre, he shall be guilty of an offence unless a certificate has been issued by the Board of Trade, or unless he proves to the satisfaction of the Court that the reasons for non-compliance were reasons beyond his control, and sub-section (2) of Section 32 states that where compliance on the part of an exhibitor with the provisions of this Act as to quota was not commercially practicable by reason of the character of the British films available or the excessive cost of such films, non-compliance with these provisions on that ground should for the purpose of this Act be treated as due to reasons beyond his control.

Despite these two sub-sections, various convictions have taken place, and one has found it very difficult to be able to convince the magistrates as to how far these sub-sections really extend. Exhibitors should bear in mind that when they are summonsed in respect of these quota prosecutions they must be able to show conclusively that in the first place they did everything in their power to try and get the films but without success, or that they could only get films which had already been shown in the district, which would mean that they would have to show them after they had been previously shown, which would not be in any way a commercial proposition, or that the prices asked for such films were, in view of the capacity of the theatre, excessive and far too much for the exhibitor to pay.

One hopes, however, that in 1931 there will not be many of these quota prosecutions, as, of course, now more British films are available the difficulty of being able to get British films should be lessened. Exhibitors should bear in mind that for the year up to September, 30, 1931, the quota is now $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., as against the previous 5 per cent. One would advise any exhibitor who has received any complaint with regard to his quota to at once put himself into touch with the Board of Trade, inform them exactly as to his reasons for not being able to comply with the quota, and if the Board of Trade are satisfied that his reasons for non-compliance were reasons beyond his control, they will issue him a certificate to that effect, and he will by so doing avoid a prosecution.

Talking Apparatus—the Position as regards Income Tax.

With regard to the hiring and acquiring of talking apparatus machines, various questions have been asked me from time to time as to the position of the exhibitors in regard to Income Tax. I am not aware of there being any definite ruling on the point, but in my opinion, where the exhibitor never acquires any ownership in the apparatus and the payments are simply by way of rental, such payments could, I think, be charged against revenue. This might even apply where there is a single payment, provided that the contracts make it clear that such payment is by way of rent and it contains nothing to vest the absolute ownership in the exhibitor.

On the other hand, if the apparatus is bought right out, even if the purchase-money is payable by instalments, and the apparatus eventually becomes the property of the exhibitor, then I do not think that such payments could be set off against revenue, but the position would be the same as in the case of ordinary hire-purchase agreement, where on the last payment the article becomes the property of the hirer absolutely. Under Rule 6, sub-sections (2) and (7) of the Income Tax Act, 1918, it states that (2) where machinery or plant is let to the person by whom the trade is carried on on the terms of his being bound to maintain the same and deliver it over in good condition at the end of the lease, the machinery or plant shall be deemed to belong to that person for the purpose of this rule, and (7) states that where application is made to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue for the alteration of the amount of any deduction for wear and tear, the Commissioners, unless they are of opinion that the application is frivolous or vexatious, shall refer the case to the Board of Referees, and that Board shall, if they are satisfied that the application is made by or on behalf of any considerable number of persons engaged in any trade or class of business, take the application into their consideration and determine the deduction to be allowed.

Gas Meters.

Cases have arisen with regard to interfering with gas meters in theatres, and it should be borne in mind that under Clause 15 of the 1871 Gasworks Clauses Act "no consumer shall connect any meter with any pipe through which gas is supplied by the undertakers to such meter or disconnect any meter from any pipe unless he shall have given to the undertakers not less than twenty-four hours' notice in writing of his intention so to do, and if any person acts in contravention of this section he shall be liable for each conviction to a penalty not exceeding 40s." It will be noticed that the notice must be given in writing and, therefore, a mere verbal notice would not comply with the statute and would not release any person who might disconnect or interfere with the meter should proceedings be taken against him.

Sunday Opening.

One does feel that the opinion as regards the opening of kinemas on Sundays is becoming more favourable, and I cannot understand why there is still so much feeling by a certain section of the community to the opening of kinemas on Sunday. It must be realised that there is a certain class of the community which must rely for its recreation and relaxation on Sundays on public facilities, and one fails to see how any better public facilities can be obtained than that obtained by means of the kinema.

In view, however, of the opposition which still exists, one would advise exhibitors to make a point of attending on the annual licensing day in case any objection should be raised to the licence being renewed for Sundays, or other objection taken, so that they can be in a position either to ask for the application to be adjourned in order to enable them to be represented, or, alternatively, they themselves to appear in support of the application.

It might be pointed out that the illegality under the Sunday Observance Act is not the opening of the kinema on Sundays, but the charge for admission.

With regard to the London County Council and the amount payable to charities, slight changes have been made in the rules affecting the submission of accounts in respect of charity payments from Sunday performances. Rule 180, which deals with the matter, now reads as follows :—

"180.—The rule now provides that a statement, certified by an independent auditor possessing professional qualifications, showing in detail receipts and expenses in connection with kinematograph entertainments held on Sundays, Christmas Day and Good Friday during a period of 12 months, or during such period as may be prescribed, shall be submitted to the Council; that the statement shall show the actual receipts, including those from sales of chocolates, programmes, or from any other source, and, as far as possible, the actual expenses incurred in connection with the entertainments; that in the case of rent, rates and other admissible items of expenditure, in respect of which the actual expenditure on Sundays, etc., is not ascertainable, the expenses shall be calculated as one-seventh of the total expenditure during the period for week-days and Sundays on the item concerned; that if the leasehold or the freehold of the premises is held by the licensee, one-seventh of the 'gross value' of the premises for rating purposes shall be included in lieu of rent; and that overhead charges of the nature of fees and payments, including those in respect of services rendered, to licensees and directors and/or licensees' and directors' wives, capital expenditure, rent of 'effects' (e.g., furniture, machinery, fittings, etc., and apparatus other than talking picture apparatus), bank interest, debenture interest, depreciation of lease, secretary's salary, office expenses, interest on mortgage and legal expenses, shall not be admitted as chargeable as expenses."

The Acts of Parliament and local bye-laws which relate to or affect the exhibition, storage or transit of cinematograph films are of paramount importance to the trade, and should be closely studied by all engaged in it. Below will be found a condensed digest of the principal regulations governing this industry. This has been prepared by a leading solicitor, who has explained the most essential points in a manner which will be readily understood by readers.

(We accept no liability for any inaccuracy which may appear in the following summary.)

REVISED BY NORMAN HART, SOLICITOR, ASSOCIATION.

CINEMATOGRAPH ACT, 1909.

All cinematograph exhibitions must be held at premises which are licensed (s. 1).

This Act was passed for making better provision for securing safety at cinematograph and other exhibitions.

Under Clause 1, provided premises comply with the regulations laid down by the Secretary of State, which are regulations dealing with the question of safety, nothing more is required.

All premises must hold a licence where inflammable films are used. The Act contains no definition of the word "inflammable."

Exceptions.—A licence is not necessary in the following cases :—

- (a) Where non-flammable films are used (as to whether a film is non-flammable or flammable is one of fact for the Justices to decide). (See Victoria Pier, Ltd. v. Reeves, 1912, 28 T.L.R. 443; also see re Dickman and Moore, Times Newspaper, December 17, 1912.) (Note.—If an exhibitor holds a licence for premises upon which he originally used inflammable films and decides in future to use non-flammable films only, he is still bound by the conditions on the licence granted although otherwise no licence would be necessary.)
- (b) For exhibitions in private dwelling-houses where the general public are not admitted whether on payment or otherwise. (Note.—A hospital has been held not to be a private house under Section 7 of the Act, for which a licence is required—National Hospital for Paralysed and Epileptic Persons, Times, October 11, 1913.)
- (c) Where premises are only used occasionally and not more than six days in any one year. But in this case the occupier must—
 - i. Give seven days' notice in writing to the Licensing Authority and the chief officer of police of the police area;
 - ii. Comply with the regulations as to safety;
 - iii. Comply with any conditions imposed in writing by the Licensing Authority.
- (i) On premises used for the purpose of exhibiting films to bona fide purchasers—Att.-Gen. v. Vitagraph Co., 1915, C.H. 206.

5. MOVABLE BUILDINGS OR STRUCTURES, provided the owner

- (a) Has a licence in respect of the building or structure from the Licensing Authority for the district where he ordinarily resides.
- (b) Has given two days' notice in writing to the Licensing Authority for the district where the exhibition is to take place, and to the chief officer of police of the police area.
- (c) Complies with any conditions imposed in writing by the Licensing Authority.

REGULATIONS AS TO SAFETY.

These are made by the Home Secretary (Act s. 1) except in Scotland and Ireland, where the Secretaries for Scotland and Ireland respectively exercise this power (Act ss. 8 and 9). They are known as the Cinematograph Regulations 1910 (Statutory Rules and Orders [1910] No. 189) and 1913 (St. R. & O. [1913] No. 566). Every owner and manager of a kinema must make himself familiar with these regulations, which are binding, even if the conditions of the licence happen to be inconsistent with them.

LICENSING AUTHORITY.

(1) ENGLAND.—The Council of the County or County Borough, but as a rule these powers are, in the first instance at least, exercised by a committee. Where the place is licensed by the Lord Chamberlain for stage plays, that official also grants kinematograph licences.

The County or County Borough Council may delegate these powers to the local justices (Act s. 5). Licensing Justices sit as an administrative body, not as a Court of Summary Jurisdiction—Huish v. Liverpool Justices, [1914] 1 K.B. 109. Therefore they have no power to state a case. Doubtful if any appeal of licensing authorities where a licence is refused without any reason.

If reasons are stated and not been satisfactory or a proper hearing has not been given, proceedings by way of mandamus should be taken to the Court of Appeal. A further appeal in such a case can be taken to the House of Lords, or proceedings might be taken in the King's Bench Division for a declaration that proposed conditions which the Licensing Authorities have decided to put upon licences are ultra vires and an injunction asked for to restrain the authorities from enforcing same. In cases before the Court of Summary Jurisdiction where the procedure is by way of case stated to the Divisional Court no further appeal is allowed.

(2) SCOTLAND.—The Council of the County or the magistrates of a royal parliamentary or police burgh. There is no power of delegation (Act s. 8).

(3) IRELAND.—The Council of the County or County Borough or Urban District or the Commissioners of the Town. There is no power of delegation, but a County Council may, in writing, authorise any officer of the Council to exercise any of the powers of the Act (Act s. 9).

GRANT, RENEWAL AND TRANSFER OF LICENCES.

Licences are normally for one year, but may be for shorter periods (Act s. 2 (2)). The Act makes no provision for granting provisional licences.

For new grants or transfers seven days' notice in writing must be given to the Licensing Authority and to the chief officer of police of the police area, but no notice need be given in the case of a renewal (Act s. 2 (4)).

FEES PAYABLE.—One year's licence (grant or renewal), £1. Shorter periods, 5s. a month (but not to exceed £1 for every year). Transfers, 5s. (Act s. 2 (5)).

LICENSEES.—The Licensing Authority has a discretion (Acts. 2(1) (3)). Where the refusal was based on the ground that several of the directors and the majority of the shareholders of the company in question were alien enemies, the refusal was upheld by the Court (Rex v. L.C.C. ex parte London and Provincial Electric Theatres [1915] 2 K.B. 466).

CONDITIONS.—Under Clause 2, Section 1, Licensing Authorities have much further powers than those given under Clause 1, as they can grant licences subject to such conditions as they may think fit in addition to the regulations of the Secretary of State as regards safety. The condition must be reasonable—L.C.C. v. Bermondsey Bioscope, 80 L.J.K. 1314. It has been argued on the words of the Act that these must be decided upon when the application for each licence is made, and not determined beforehand (e.g., most of the authorities issue a list of conditions which licensees must submit to), but this argument has not met with favour (see Rex v. Burnley Justices [1916], 32 T.L.R. at p. 696).

Conditions or undertakings which have been upheld in the Courts include :

Against opening on Sundays and Holy Days, even where non-inflammable films used (L.C.C. v. Bermondsey Bioscope Co. [1911] 1 K.B. 445; Ellis v. North Metropolitan Theatres [1915] 2 K.B. 61).

Against showing any film to which the Authority objects (ex p. Stott [1916] 1 K.B. 7) ;

As to hours of opening and closing (Rex v. Burnley Justices, supra).

Against showing any licentious or indecent film (Rex v. Burnley Justices, supra).

There is a distinction between conditions and undertakings and a condition as to the admission of children has been held bad (Halifax Theatre do Luxe v. Gledhill [1915] 2 K.B. 49), but an undertaking of not so widespread a character relating to the same matter has been upheld (Rex v. Burnley Justices, supra).

Breach of a condition is an offence for which the licensee may be fined, and at once lose his licence ; breach of an undertaking may lead to refusal of renewal.

A condition that no film can be shown if a specified number of justices object is void, as different groups may think differently (Rex v. Burnley Justices, supra).

Where the Licensing Authority enforce a condition that no film to which the Authority objects may be shown, the owner of the film is apparently without any adequate remedy (ex p. Stott [1916] 1 K.B. 7; Stott v. Gamble [1916] 2 K.B. 504).

A condition that no film be shown which has not been certified for public exhibition by the British Board of Film Censors is ultra vires, as it sets up in place of the Licensing Committee another Body whose ipse dixit should be a test of what might be exhibited. (Ellis v. Dubouski [1921] 3, K.B.D.).

As to whether, therefore, the above conditions are intra vires is somewhat doubtful, and it might be argued that even if a film had not been censored and no notice given to the Local Licensing Authority, the only legal ground for proceeding against an exhibitor for showing the picture would be that of indecency.

The argument was upheld in a summons brought against an exhibitor in the Midlands, by the Licensing Authority, on the condition that if it was desired to show a film that had not been passed by the Censor, three clear days notice must be sent to the Licensing Authority.

POLICE SUPERVISION.—Any police officer and any person authorised by the Licensing Authority may enter any premises (whether licensed or not) where he has reason to believe that a cinematograph exhibition is being or is about to be given. A police officer needs no authority, and while there may pay attention to any other breaches of the law that he may suspect (McVittie v. Turner [1916] 85 L.J. K.B. 23). If anyone prevents or obstructs him, the offender is liable to be fined up to £20 (Act s. 4).

A Constable without consent is not entitled to take away a piece of a film for the purpose of testing whether it is inflammable or non-flammable.

PENALTIES.

Besides the offence just mentioned, the owner of a kinematograph or other apparatus who uses it or allows it to be used in contravention of the Act or the Regulations or the conditions of the licence, and the occupier of premises who allows them to be used in contravention of the same, may be fined up to £20, and in the case of a continuing offence, £5 a day, and the licence may be revoked on conviction (Act s. 3). The manager of a kinema owned by a company is not an occupier, and cannot be summoned as such (Bruce v. McMains [1915] 3 K.B. 1).

A kinematograph licence does not authorise musical accompaniments. A music licence is not necessary where music is subsidiary to the picture.— See Hallinan, 73 J.P.N. 458.

THEATRE AND MUSIC AND DANCING LICENCES may also be necessary. Theatre Licences for Stage Plays are obtained from the Lord Chamberlain in London, and from the justices elsewhere. Music and Dancing Licence are granted by the County and County Borough Councils, who can delegate this power to the local justices.

Music and Dancing Licences in London are governed by the Music Hall Act, 1751. In Middlesex, by the Music and Dancing Middlesex Act, 1894. In other areas beyond 20 miles from the Cities of London and Westminster under the Public Health Acts (Amendment Act), 1890, Sec. 4. Music Licences are renewable only once each year. They may contain conditions (in view of the section of the Public Health Act), different to the conditions of a kinematograph licence, as that act does not apply to Music and Dancing Licences. In London, Music and Dancing Licences are governed by the Music Halls Act, 1751. A Music and Dancing Licence does not authorise stage plays, nor does a Theatre Licence, under the Theatre Act, 1843, include Music and Dancing.

CHILDREN.

Where an entertainment is given for children (i.e., under fourteen), or the majority of persons present are children, and their number exceeds one hundred, and access to any part of the building is by stairs, then it is the duty of the occupier (if he is paid) and of the person giving the entertainment (in any case) to see that an adequate number of adult attendants are present to prevent overcrowding in any part, to control the movements of the audience when entering and leaving, and also to take all reasonable precautions for safety. Police officers have the right of entry. The penalty for a first offence is up to £50, for a second or subsequent offence up to £100, and any licence held in respect of the building may be revoked (Children Act, 1908, s. 121). The kinematograph licence is not mentioned, as it had not come into existence at that date.

The Employment of Children Act, 1903, s. 1, enables local authorities to make bye-laws relating to the employment of children (i.e., under fourteen), and many of them have exercised this power. A licensee should enquire at the council offices whether the local authority of his district has made any bye-law affecting him (e.g., as to programme, sweet, or cigarette sellers, etc.).

No child (under sixteen) employed half-time in a factory or workshop may be employed elsewhere (Act 1903, s. 3 (3)), nor may any child be employed before six a.m. or after nine p.m., unless the local bye-laws allow it (Act 1903, s. 3 (1)). The fine is up to 40s. for a first offence, and £5 afterwards (Act 1903, s. 5 (1)).

By the Royal assent having been given to the Shops Hours of Closing Act 1928, patrons can buy tobacco, matches, table waters, sweets, chocolates or other sugar confectionery or ice-cream at any time during performances in any Theatre, Kinema, Music Hall or other similar place of entertainment so long as the sale is to bona-fide members of the audience and not on a part of the building to which other members of the public have access.

This does away with the ban put upon Kinemas by D.O.R.A. some 11 years ago.

OTHER LEGISLATION.

HOUSES (ADDITIONAL POWERS) ACT, 1919.

Gives powers to Councils to make orders prohibiting the construction of works or theatres on grounds that the production of dwelling accommodation is likely to be delayed by a deficiency of labour or materials arising out of the employment of labour, or material in the construction of such works or buildings. Any person aggrieved by such an order of prohibition can appeal, subject to the rules of procedure set down by the Ministry. A Tribunal of Appeal can be set up under this Act to hear appeals against any such Order.

LICENSING (CONSOLIDATION) ACT, 1910.

Where it is desired to sell intoxicating liquors by retail on the premises, a Licence must be obtained.

REFRESHMENT HOUSES ACT, 1860.

Any House, Room or Building can be opened for Public resort and entertainment between 10 p.m., and 5 a.m., but if not being licensed for beer, wine and spirits, must take out a Refreshment House Excise Licence.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE ACT, 1781.

Any house opened for Public amusement or debate on a Sunday to which persons shall be admitted by payment of money shall be deemed a Disorderly House—Penalty £200 for every Sunday opened. (Note)—If a reasonable number of persons are admitted free there is no offence under the Act in making a charge for a reserved seat; it will be noted that the act speaks of admission, not to a seat, but to the entertainment.

FINANCE ACT, 1920.

This was an Act passed to grant certain duties to Customs and Inland Revenue, to alter other duties and to amend the law relating to Customs and Inland Revenue and the National Debt and to make further provision in connection with finance.

HOME COUNTIES, MUSIC AND DANCING LICENCES ACT, 1926.

This was an Act passed to amend the law as regards Music and Dancing Licences in parts of certain Home Counties and in certain County Boroughs adjacent thereto. It gave powers to the Council to grant Licences for any period not exceeding 13 months to such persons as they thought fit.

Under this Act the Council can delegate all or any of its powers to a Committee consisting wholly or partly of members of the Council.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE ACT, 1920

was an act passed to amend the Law in respect of Insurance against Unemployment. All persons of the age of 16 and upwards who are engaged in employment as specified by the Act shall be insured against unemployment in manner provided by the Act.

TRADE UNIONS AND TRADE DISPUTES ACT, 1927

amends the law relating to Trade Disputes and Trade Unions and regulates the position of Civil Servants and persons employed by public authorities in respect of membership of trade unions and similar organisations and to extend section 5 of the Conspiracy and Protection of Property Act 1875

1923. NEW REGULATION UNDER CINEMATOGRAPH ACT, 1909.

Exhibitors should always keep a copy of these regulations by them as they take the place of the previous regulations dated 18th February, 1910, and 20th May, 1913.

1921. THE ENTERTAINMENTS DUTY REGULATIONS are regulations made by the Commissioners of Customs and Excise under Section 2 of the Finance New Duties) Act, 1916, for securing the payment of Entertainments Duty.

The points to be noted are that the price of admission must be printed on the tickets. Adhesive stamps are not to be issued except upon the tickets. No tickets other than stamped tickets to be issued on payment made for admission. Tickets and stamps to be issued undefaced and defaced subsequently. No Government ticket is to be used for admitting more than one person. (Note: Arrangements approved by the Commissioners can be made for providing returns of payments for admission to an entertainment.)

THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN

in entertainments, Statutory Rules and Orders 1920, No. 21.

An application for a license to enable a child to take part in an entertainment or series of entertainments must be made in writing to the Local Educational Authority signed by the parent and the employer of the child in the form contained in the first schedule thereto, together with the necessary documents.

Under this rule the term "parent" includes guardian and every person who is liable to maintain or has actual custody of the child.

THE FACTORIES BILL, 1920.

This Bill abolishes the distinction between factories and workshops and between textile and non-textile factories, and employs only the one word "Factory."

LANDLORD AND TENANT ACT, 1927.

This Act came into force on the 25th March of this year. It provides (inter alia) for compensation for improvements and compensation for loss of goodwill.

CINEMATOGRAPH FILMS ACT, 1927,

being an Act to restrict blind booking and advance booking of Cinematograph films, and to secure the renting and exhibition of a certain proportion of British films and for purposes connected therewith. The Act is printed in extenso at the end of this section.

THE FACTORY AND WORKSHOP ACT, 1901.

Under Section 20 of this Act electrical stations are defined as any premises or that part of any premises in which electrical energy is generated or transformed for the purpose of supply by way of trade or for the lighting of any street, &c.

This section therefore brings a cinema which generates its own energy under the above Act, and therefore the requirements of the above Act must be complied with.

THE RATING AND VALUATION ACT, 1925,

was passed (inter alia) to define what machinery and plant was deemed to be part of the hereditament for rating purposes.

THE RATING AND VALUATION ACT, 1928,

was an Act passed to extend to the Administrative County of London the provisions of the Rating and Valuation Act 1925 with respect to the valuation of hereditaments containing machinery and plant and to make temporary provision with respect to the deduction to be made in ascertaining the rateable value—to amend Sections 11 and 37 and the 4th and 5th Schedules of the 1925 Act and to provide for the tenant decisions on points of law with a view to securing uniformity in valuation.

THE RATING AND VALUATION (APPORTIONMENT) ACT, 1928, was an Act passed to make provision with a view to granting of relief from rates in respect of certain classes of hereditaments to be affected and the apportionment in Valuation Lists of the net annual value of such hereditaments according to the extent and user thereof for various purposes,

Section 3, sub-section 1 of this Act contains provisions as to "Industrial Hereditaments." "Industrial Hereditament" has been defined to mean a hereditament occupied and used as a mine or mineral railway or as a factory or workshop. A hereditament though part of it may be in law a "factory" or "workshop" is not to be treated as an Industrial hereditament if the premises as a whole are not primarily used for the purposes of a factory or workshop.

With regard to the position of a Kinematograph Theatre, in view of the fact that the premises are not used primarily for the purposes of a factory or workshop I do not consider it comes under the heading of "Industrial Hereditament" and therefore does not appear to be entitled to "relief" as an "Industrial hereditament."

The Rating and Valuation (Apportionment) Act Rules, 1928, made by the Minister of Health under section 58 of the Rating and Valuation Act, 1925, and of the Rating and Valuation (Apportionment) Act, 1928, prescribes the forms of notices, claims and lists to be used for the purposes of the first Schedule to the last mentioned Act and the dates to be observed in connection with the preparation and approval of lists under that Schedule.

The list of valuations is deposited by the Rating Authorities at the office of the Authority and any person aggrieved can object to the assessment within 25 days of the deposit of the Valuation List. Forms of objection can be obtained from the Rating Authorities, and the forms should contain every possible ground for complaint. One person can object to another person's assessment on the ground that it is too low, and in such a case the occupier is entitled to receive notice from the Assessment Committee of the objection.

FILMS—MANUFACTURE AND STORAGE.

There is no general legislation upon this matter, but there are local statutes and orders.

(I) LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL (CELLULOID) ACT, 1915; GLASGOW CELLULOID ACT, 1915. These Acts came into force on April 1st, 1916 (with certain exceptions), and are in practically identical terms. They deal with celluloid and other substances and kinematograph films. They deal with three classes of buildings: (a) Raw Celluloid Factories; (b) Celluloid Factories; and (c) Celluloid Stores.

- (a) Raw Celluloid Factories, i.e., places where celluloid and similar substances are made. The site and construction of each factory must be approved by the Council, and the factory must be maintained substantially as approved (London Act, s. 3).
- (b) Celluloid Factories, i.e., places where celluloid or kinematograph film is subjected to manufacturing process. Such a factory must not be beneath or below the level of other parts of the same building used for residential purposes. The Council may dispense with this duty in the case of a building so used before April 1st, 1916. Proper means of escape from fire must be provided unless the premises are already under the Dangerous Trade Regulations (Factory Act, 1901). The Council may dispense with these requirements in any case where it judges them to be unnecessary (London Act, ss. 5 and 6).

- (c) Celluloid Stores, i.e., places where for sale, hire, or profit, either (a) kinematograph film is kept or stored in quantities exceeding 20 reels or 80 lbs., or, where smaller quantities are kept, etc., unless the reels are kept in separate closed metal boxes or (b) unmanufactured celluloid is kept in quantities exceeding 112 lbs. weight. These stores must be registered with the Council (from whom forms can be obtained). The registration fee is 10s. 6d. (London Act, s. 4). The same provisions apply to stores as to factories under head (b), but the Council has no power to dispense with any of the requirements as unnecessary (London Act, s. 7).

Where buildings were before the Act partly used as a celluloid factory or store and partly for other purposes, and film is used or handled therein, then, if the Council requires structural alterations before giving any consent, the owner of the building must be notified, and, if the Council requires as a condition the provision of means of escape from fire, the person using the building must be notified. In each case if the person notified objects to the requirement, he can claim arbitration (London Act, s. 9).

Once the consent or approval of the Council is obtained, no further request can be made unless the conditions materially change (London Act, s. 11).

The elaborate provisions as to storage of celluloid and celluloid film do not come into operation until the Defence of the Realm Regulation is revoked (London Act, s. 12). In Glasgow they came into force on January 1st, 1917.

If anyone affected by a decision of the Council objects to it, he has an appeal to a Police Magistrate (London Act, s. 14).

The Council may appoint officials who have power to enter any premises, take samples, and have them analysed (London Act, s. 21).

The general procedure for infringing the Act is a prosecution with a maximum penalty of £20 and £10 a day if the offence is continuing (London Act, s. 2), but in the case of selling film to a person apparently under sixteen without a written order from a responsible person, the penalty is up to £2 for the first offence; £5 for the second; and £10 for the third and later offence (London Act, s. 24).

These Acts do not apply to Theatres, Music Halls and Kinemas (London Act, s. 25), nor to films, etc., while in transit on railways (London Act, s. 30).

(2) DEFENCE OF THE REALM REGULATION 35.—No person may have in his possession, or in premises in his occupation or under his control, any celluloid or film exceeding the prescribed amount without a permit. The police are charged with the duty of enforcing the regulation, and may enter premises and may remove and destroy any celluloid or film found there without a permit or in breach of the terms of the permit.

Orders under this Regulation have been made as to Birmingham, Leeds, London, and Nottingham. The London Order is the only one referring to celluloid; and allows 112 lbs. to be kept without a permit. The requirements as to permits are expressed not to apply to kinemas or to factories which are under the Dangerous Trade Regulations (Factory Act, 1901).

TRANSIT BY RAIL.

RAILWAY REGULATIONS IN REGARD TO FILM BOXES.—The specification of the Railway Clearing House of the type of metal boxes required by the Railway Companies to be used for the transit of films is as follows:

Boxes must be rectangular, wood-lined cases, to hold not more than six films and measure not more than 14½ inches outside either way. They must be made of galvanised iron of not less thickness than .022 of an inch (No 25 B.G.) for the small one and two film cases, and not less than .028 of an inch (No. 23 B.G.) for the larger sizes (three to six film cases).

All the corners of the sides and bottom must be strengthened by folding seams, the top of the body having wired edges turned inwards. The hinged lid must be turned down all round for a depth of one and a quarter inches. It must fit over the body of the case and have wired edges turned outwards. It must be attached to the body by two strong hinges, firmly riveted to both body and lid, and fastened by stout wire hasps fitting over iron staples riveted to the front of the case. Each hasp and staple must be locked, either by padlock or by a spring safety hook, permanently to the staple by a short length of stout chain. Cases for one and two films need only have one clasp and staple fastening; other sizes must have two.

Other conditions are that a thin metal label frame, open at the top, must be riveted to the case in such a position that the top edge of the label frame is covered by the lid when closed; all the boxes must be completely lined with plain wood of half-inch thickness fastened by rivets to the lid and body of the case; the following words must be painted in black on the lid: "Cinema Films," in one-inch block letters, and "Keep in a cool place," in letters five-eighths of an inch depth. No other lettering must appear on the lid. The name and address of the owners may be painted on the sides or ends, and the cases must be unpainted.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

(1) EXPORT.—Under the Customs (Exports Restrictions) Acts, 1914 and 1915, orders have been made totally prohibiting the export of celluloid, celluloid sheet which is non-inflammable, and similar transparent material not soluble in lubricating oil, petrol or water, and kinematograph film.

Licences can, however, be obtained from the War Trade Department through the British Board of Film Censors, and general licences can be obtained under certain conditions which must be strictly complied with. All applications for licences and information should be made in the first instance to the British Board of Film Censors.

2) IMPORTS.—The import of films is affected in three ways:

(c) Restriction of Imports.

(a) The owner of British copyright may notify the Customs that he objects to copies made out of the United Kingdom of his work which would be an infringement if made here, being imported. The Customs make regulations dealing with this matter, and breach of the prohibition leads to forfeiture and destruction of the offending copies.

(b) The duty on imported films is as follows: Rate per foot of the standard width, $1\frac{3}{4}$ inches: Blank film (also called raw film or stock), $\frac{1}{2}$ d.; positives, i.e., films ready for exhibition, 1d.; negatives, i.e., films containing a photograph from which positives may be prepared, 5d. They can be placed in bond.

(c) Imported films must comply with the regulations for railway transit.

ENTERTAINMENTS TAX.

For tax purposes an "entertainment" includes any exhibition, performance, amusement, game, or sport to which persons are admitted for payment. Admission to the place where the entertainment is held is sufficient, otherwise tax could be evaded by charging admission and giving a free show. If there is an additional charge to go to another part of the premises, tax is levied on both charges. The proprietor for this purpose includes the person responsible for the management. The rates are:

Up to 6d. there is no Tax.							Tax.
Exceeding 6d. but not exceeding 7d.							s.	d.
	7d.	"	"	8d.	1
"	8d.	"	"	1/1	1 ½
"	1/1	"	"	1/3	2
"	1/3	"	"	2/-	3
"	2/-	"	"	3/-	4
"	3/-	"	"	5/-	6
"	5/-	"	"	7/6	9
"	7/6	"	"	10/6	1 0
"	10/6	"	"	15/-	1 6

Exceeding 15/-, 2/- for the first 15/-, and 6d. for every 5/- or part of 5/- over 15/-.

Thus, if the charge is £1, the tax is 2/6. If it is £1 10s., the tax is 3/6. The Entertainments Tax is an excise tax and is managed and collected by the Commissioners of Customs and Excise.

Admission can only be given by ticket stamped with a mark denoting that duty has been paid, or in special cases, if the Commissioners approve, through a barrier which automatically registers the numbers admitted. But the proprietor can make arrangements with the Commissioners dispensing with these conditions on the terms of furnishing certified returns at stated times and giving security for due payment of the duty. Penalty for breach : Proprietor, £50 and duty ; Person admitted, £5. Special provision is made for lump sum payments in the case of clubs or societies, or in the case of season tickets or tickets for a series of entertainments.

Duty is not payable where the Commissioners are satisfied :

- (a) That the proceeds are devoted to philanthropic or charitable purposes without deduction of expenses, or
- (b) That the entertainment is wholly educational (in case of difference the Board of Education decides) ; or
- (c) That the entertainment is for children only, and the charge is not more than one penny per person ; or
- (d) That the entertainment is provided for partly educational or partly scientific purposes by a society, and not run for profit ; or
- (e) That it is provided by or on behalf of a school or educational institution if the school or institution is not run for profit, and the entertainment is provided solely for promoting some object of the school or institution, and that all the persons who are performers are under sixteen and are scholars or ex-scholars of the school or institution.

In the case of a charity performance where the whole of the expenses are deducted, but do not exceed 20 per cent. of the receipts, the duty is repaid to the proprietor.

Any officer of excise authorised to do so may enter a place of entertainment and any person who prevents or obstructs him is liable to a fine up to £20.

The Commissioners can make regulations, any breach of which entails an excise penalty of £50, and they may make arrangements whereby the local authority (county, borough, or urban district council), or the police may exercise all or any of the powers of the Commissioners as to this duty. The law is contained in the Finance (New Duties) Act, 1916, ss. 1 and 2, and the Finance Act, 1916, s. 12.

COPYRIGHT.

Under the Copyright Act, 1911, the owner of a literary or dramatic work has the sole right to make a cinematograph film or other contrivance by which the same may be mechanically performed, and to authorise such acts. Before the Act it was held that there was no such right (Karno v. Pathé Frères, 100 L.T. 260).

Infringement is doing without the owner's consent anything which conflicts with the owner's rights. It includes selling, or letting for hire, or by way of trade exposing or offering for sale or hire, or by way of trade exhibiting in public or importing for sale or hire any work which infringes copyright or would do so if the work had been made in the country where infringement takes place. It also includes the case of a person who, for his private profit, permits a theatre or place of entertainment to be used for the public performance of a work without the owner's consent unless the person so doing was not aware and had no reasonable ground for suspecting that it was an infringement.

Copyright lasts during the life of the author and fifty years after his death. In the case of photographs, it is fifty years from the making of the original negative. All transfers or licences must be in writing and signed by the owner or his agent. The author cannot assign his copyright for longer than twenty-five years after his death.

A compulsory licence can be obtained twenty-five or thirty years after the author's death, but this provision cannot apply before 1936 at the earliest. The Privy Council has the power to grant a compulsory licence at any time after the author's death if it is proved that the work has been published or performed in public, and the present owner of the copyright has refused to allow republication, etc., so that the work is in effect withheld from the public.

An employee or apprentice does not acquire the copyright in work he does for his employer. Where a photograph is taken at the order of the sitter, who pays for it, he, and not the photographer, is the owner. It is a criminal offence to infringe copyright knowingly, and the offender is liable to a fine up to 40s. for every copy, but not more than £50 for any one transaction. In the case of second or subsequent offences, the justices can send the offender to prison for two months without the option of a fine, and in all cases may order the copies to be destroyed. No criminal charge under the Act can be brought more than six months after the act complained of. In civil proceedings the usual remedy is an injunction, but the defendant is also liable for damages unless he proves not merely that he did not know of the copyright, but also that he had no reasonable grounds for suspecting its existence. For example, if a kinema proprietor hires a film to show at one hall, he is liable for damages if he shows it at any other place (Fenning Film Service v. Wolverhampton, etc., Cinemas [1914] 3 K.B. 1171). Where the alleged infringement is such that the Court would not protect it as an original work (e.g., on the ground of indecency), the owner of the copyright cannot sue under the Act, but can claim damages for defamatory representation of his work (Glyn v. Western Feature Film Co. [1916] 1 Ch. 261). The proper way to prove a film is to call someone who has seen it shown and not to produce the film unless some point turns on the film itself.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD REGULATIONS.

The Local Government Board have power under Section 130 of Public Health Act, 1875, and amendments to issue regulations with a view to preventing the spread of any epidemic or infectious disease. Regulations known as the Public Health (Influenza) Regulations, 1918, were issued by the Local Government Board under general orders dated November 18 and 22, 1918:—

1. Limiting the time of entertainment to not more than 4 hours consecutively.
2. An interval of not less than 30 minutes between any two entertainments.
3. During such interval the place to be effectually and thoroughly ventilated, the penalty for breach not exceeding £100, and in case of a continuing offence to a further penalty not exceeding £50 for every day which the offence continues.
4. No children to be admitted to exhibitions where public elementary schools in the district have been temporarily closed. Notice must be given to the proprietor, otherwise regulation not effective.

These restrictions can be relaxed by any local authority upon such conditions as they may determine on the advice of their Medical Officer for Health. They do not concern the Licensing Authorities, who have no power to deal with such restrictions.

For removal of regulations application should be made to the District or Urban Council of the place where the theatre is situated.

[These regulations have been rescinded. Attempts are being made to make them conditions on kinematograph licences, but it is doubtful whether such conditions are "intra vires."]

THE CELLULOID ACT.

An Act known as "THE CELLULOID AND CINEMATOGRAPH FILM ACT OF 1922" has been passed to make better provision for the prevention of fire in premises where raw celluloid or kinematograph films are stored or used.

The purposes to which this Act applies are:—

- (1) The keeping or storing of raw celluloid—
 - (a) In quantities exceeding at any one time one hundredweight; or
 - (b) In smaller quantities unless kept (except when required to be exposed for the purpose of the work carried on in the premises) in a properly closed metal box or case; and
- (2) The keeping or storing of kinematograph film—
 - (a) In quantities exceeding at any one time twenty reels or eighty pounds in weight, or
 - (b) In smaller quantities unless each reel is kept (except when required to be exposed for the purpose of the work carried on in the premises) in a separate and properly closed metal box or case:—

Provided that:—

- i. For the purpose of this Act, kinematograph film shall be deemed to be kept in any premises where it is temporarily deposited for the purpose of examination, cleaning, packing, re-winding or repair, but celluloid or kinematograph film shall not be deemed to be kept or stored in any premises where it is temporarily deposited whilst in the course of delivery, conveyance or transport; and
- ii. The provisions of this Act shall not, except in the cases referred to in paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of sub-section (1) of section one thereof, apply to premises to which the Factory and Workshop Acts, 1901 to 1920 apply. Nor do the provisions of this Act apply to premises licensed under the Cinematograph Act, 1909. It should be pointed out, however, that under this Act any Officer duly authorised by a local authority may at any time take for analysis sufficient samples of any material which he suspects to be or to contain Celluloid.

HOME OFFICE REGULATIONS, 1923.

The 1923 Regulations under the Cinematograph Act, 1909 are somewhat important, and have been somewhat amended from their original form; owing to various meetings that took place between the Sub-Committee of the C.E.A. and the Home Office.

The Regulations took the place of previous Regulations of February 18, 1910 and May 20, 1913. The Regulations must be exhibited in the enclosure and easily accessible to operators. They are dated July 30, 1923, and operate from that date, but they would not affect any licence for the period for which it was granted, though, of course, when the same is renewed the new conditions will appear.

As regards clause 4, "Fire Appliances" footnote should be noticed, as it lays down that a fireman need not be employed exclusively in taking charge of the fire appliances. He must not, however, be given other work during an exhibition which would take him away from the building or otherwise prevent him from being immediately available in case of danger or alarm of fire.

As regards No. 5, "Smoking," it should be observed that notices stating that smoking is prohibited shall be kept posted in the enclosure and film room or anywhere where films are stored, wound or repaired.

As regards No. 7, relating to enclosure, fire-resisting material now includes teak or oak not less than two inches thick.

With regard to clause 7, "Enclosures," Sec. 8, it will be noticed that in case of need the enclosure may be left for a short period in charge of a competent assistant over 16 years of age.

As to what is the exact definition of a "competent operator," one does not know, but apparently it can be taken to mean that an operator who can satisfactorily operate would come within the definition of a "competent operator."

With regard to clause 13, "Lighting," it should be pointed out that if the general lighting is by electricity the safety lighting shall be by (a) electricity from another source (b) gas or (c) oil or candles

One does not take this to mean that the safety lighting, if electricity, shall be taken from an entirely different supply, but merely that there shall be primary and secondary lighting installed in the building, the intention, of course, being that should the electric light supply be temporarily interrupted, the theatre will not be put into darkness.

Clause 14, on "Electrical Installation," it should be noticed that the Wiring Rules of the Institution of Electrical Engineers apply, a copy of which can always be obtained from Odhams Press Ltd., Technical Book Dept., 85, Long Acre, London, W.C.2. Price 1/2 post free.

It should be observed that Sections A, E, F and G of these Regulations do not apply to wiring in existence before July 30, 1923, except in the event of such wiring being altered or renewed.

With regard to clause 15, it should be noticed that the requirements in paragraphs C, D, M and N shall not apply to apparatus in use before the date of these Regulations, and the requirements in paragraphs E, G, I, J and K do not apply until July 29, 1925, except in the event of the apparatus being renewed or materially altered.—NORMAN HART.

STATUTORY RULES AND ORDERS, 1923, No. 983.

[REGULATIONS, DATED JULY 30, 1923, MADE BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE UNDER THE CINEMATOGRAPH ACT, 1909 (9 EDW. 7, C. 30).]

PART I.—GENERAL.DEFINITIONS.*1.—In these Regulations—

- a) The word "building" shall be deemed to include any booth, tent or similar structure.
- (b) The expression "new building" means a building newly erected or adapted after the date on which these regulations come into force for the purpose of cinematograph exhibitions.
- (c) The expression "cinematograph exhibition" includes any exhibition to which the Act applies.

SEATING AND EXITS.

2.—(a) No building shall be used for cinematograph exhibitions unless it be provided with an adequate number of exits clearly indicated and so placed and maintained as readily to afford the audience ample means of safe egress.

(b) The doors of all exits shall be so constructed and maintained as easily to open outwards on being pressed from within.

(c) The seating in the building shall be so arranged as not to interfere with free access to the exits.

(d) The gangways, the staircases, and the passages leading to the exits shall, during the presence of the public in the building, be kept clear of obstructions. No person shall be allowed to stand or sit in any of the gangways intersecting the rows of seats, or in the space between the front row of seats and the screen; and if standing be permitted by the licensing authority in any other gangway or portion of the auditorium, sufficient room shall be left to allow persons to pass easily to and fro.

STAFF.

3.—(a) The licensee or some responsible person nominated by him in writing for the purpose shall be in charge during the whole time of any exhibition and there shall also be during that time a sufficient staff of attendants in the building for the purpose of securing safety.

(b) All persons responsible for or employed in or in connection with the exhibition shall take all due precautions for the prevention of accidents, and shall abstain from any act whatever which tends to cause fire and is not reasonably necessary for the purpose of the exhibition.

(This paragraph of the Regulations has now been revised—See page 140)

FIRE APPLIANCES.

4.—(a) Fire appliances suitable to the character of the building and adequate to deal with an outbreak of fire shall be provided and maintained in good working order. During the exhibition such appliances shall be in the charge of some person (A) specially nominated for that purpose who shall see that they are kept constantly available for use.

(b) There shall always be within the enclosure sufficient means of dealing with fire readily available for use, and these shall include the following, namely, a thick woollen blanket, two buckets of water, and a bucket of dry sand. Before the commencement of each exhibition the operator shall satisfy himself that the fire appliances within the enclosure are ready for use.

(a) It is not required that the person specially nominated should necessarily be employed exclusively in taking charge of the fire appliances, but he must not be given other work during an exhibition which would take him away from the building or otherwise prevent him from being immediately available in case of danger or alarm of fire.

SMOKING.

5.—No smoking shall at any time be permitted within the barrier or enclosure, nor in the film room nor in any part of the premises in which films are stored, wound, or repaired. Notices stating that smoking is prohibited shall be kept posted in the enclosure and film room and any such part of the premises as aforesaid.

INFLAMMABLE ARTICLES.

6.—No inflammable article shall unnecessarily be taken into, or allowed to remain in, the enclosure, the film room, or any part of the premises in which films are stored, wound, or repaired.

ENCLOSURES.

Regulations applying to all classes of buildings.

7.—(1) (a) The projecting apparatus shall be placed in an enclosure of substantial construction made of or lined internally with fire-resisting material and of sufficient dimensions to allow the operator to work freely.

(b) All fittings and fixtures within the enclosure other than the frames of outside windows shall be constructed of or covered with fire-resisting material.

The entrance to the enclosure shall be suitably placed and fitted with a self-closing close-fitting door which shall be kept closed during the exhibition.

For the purpose of this Regulation the expression " fire resisting material " includes teak or oak not less than two inches thick.

(c) The openings through which the necessary pipes and cables pass into the enclosure shall be efficiently sealed or bushed, as the case may be.

(d) The openings in the front face of the enclosure shall be covered with glass and shall not be larger than is necessary for effective projection and observation.

Each such opening shall be fitted with a screen of fire-resisting material, which can be released from both the inside and the outside of the enclosure so that it automatically closes with a close-fitting joint. The screens shall be so constructed and arranged that they can all be released simultaneously from the operating position near any of the projectors.

The openings shall not exceed two for each projecting apparatus and not more than two of the openings shall be left unscreened at any one time notwithstanding that there be two or more lanterns in the enclosure unless a control is provided by which all the screens can be released simultaneously from both the inside and the outside of the enclosure.

(e) The door of the enclosure and all openings, bushes, and joints shall be so constructed and maintained as to prevent, so far as possible, the escape of any smoke into the auditorium or any part of the building to which the public are admitted.

(f) Adequate means of ventilation shall be provided with sufficient inlets and outlets so as to ensure a constant supply of fresh air. The inlets and outlets shall communicate directly with the outside of the building, and shall be so arranged as not to expose the operator to a direct draught.

(g) If the enclosure is inside the auditorium, either a suitable barrier shall be placed round the enclosure at a distance of not less than two feet from it, or other effectual means shall be taken to prevent the public from coming into contact with the enclosure.

Provided that this requirement shall not apply where the enclosure is of permanent construction and is not entered from the auditorium.

(h) The enclosure shall be in charge of a competent operator over eighteen years of age, who shall be present in the enclosure during the whole time that the apparatus is in use. This shall not prevent the operator leaving the enclosure for a short period in case of need provided that a competent assistant, over sixteen years of age, is left in charge and the operator remains within immediate call.

(i) No unauthorised person shall go into the enclosure or be allowed to be within the barrier.

Regulations applying only to specified classes of buildings

(2) In the case of buildings used habitually for cinematograph exhibitions the enclosure shall be outside the auditorium; and in the case of permanent buildings used habitually as aforesaid the enclosure shall also be permanent.

Provided that if the licensing authority is of opinion that, in the case of an existing building, compliance with either or both of the requirements in the preceding paragraph is impracticable or in the circumstances unnecessary for securing safety, the requirement or requirements shall not apply.

In any new building where the enclosure is permanent, the enclosure shall also comply with the following requirements:—

(a) a window or skylight shall be provided.

(b) the entrance shall be from the open air.

(c) alternative means of egress shall be provided unless the licensing authority is satisfied that compliance with this requirement is impracticable.

PROJECTING APPARATUS AND FILMS.

8.—(a) The projecting apparatus shall be placed on firm supports constructed of fire-resisting material.

(b) Every lantern shall be fitted with a metal shutter which can readily be inserted by hand between the source of light and the film-gate, and every projector shall be fitted with a metal shutter so arranged as automatically to cut off the film-gate from the source of light when the projector stops.

(c) The construction of the film-gate shall be substantial and such as to afford ample heat-radiating surface. The passage for the film shall be sufficiently narrow to prevent flames travelling upwards or downwards from the light-opening.

9.—(a) Projectors shall be fitted with two metal boxes of substantial construction to and from which the film shall be made to travel, unless both the film spools are contained in a metal chamber of substantial construction below the projector. There shall not be more than 2,000 feet of film in either of the two metal boxes.

(b) The film boxes or chamber shall be made to close in such a manner, and shall be fitted with film slots so constructed, as to prevent the passage of flame to the interior of the box or chamber, and they shall remain so closed during the whole time that projection is taking place.

10.—Take-up spools shall be mechanically driven and films shall be wound upon spools so that the wound film shall not at any time reach or project beyond the edges of the flanges of the spool.

11.—(a) During the exhibition all films when not in use shall be kept in closed metal boxes of substantial construction. When in the enclosure not more than six spools shall be kept in one box at the same time.

(b) Not more than 12 spools or 20,000 feet of film altogether shall be kept in the enclosure and the rewinding room at the same time

REWINDING ROOM

12.—(a) A separate room shall be provided for the rewinding and repairing of films, which shall be constructed throughout of, or lined internally with, fire-resisting material.

(b) All fittings and fixtures within the rewinding room shall be constructed of, or covered with, fire-resisting material, and the entrance shall be provided with a self-closing close-fitting door of fire-resisting material which shall not communicate directly with the auditorium or any part of the building to which the public are admitted. If there is any communicating doorway or other opening between the enclosure and the rewinding room it shall also be provided with a door or shutter of fire-resisting material.

For the purposes of this Regulation the expression "fire-resisting material" includes teak or oak not less than 2 inches thick.

(c) The rewinding room shall be provided with adequate means of ventilation, with sufficient inlets and outlets so as to ensure a constant supply of fresh air. The inlets and outlets shall communicate directly with the outside of the building.

(d) Alternative means of egress shall be provided other than through the enclosure.

Provided that if the licensing authority is of opinion that compliance with any of the requirements of this regulation is impracticable or, in the case of any of the requirements in paragraphs (a), (b) and (d), that it is in the circumstances unnecessary for securing safety, the requirement or requirements shall not apply.

LIGHTING AND ELECTRICAL INSTALLATION.

13.—(a) Where the general lighting of the premises can be controlled from within the enclosure, there shall also be separate and independent means of control outside of and away from the enclosure.

(b) The auditorium and exits therefrom to the outside of the building and all parts of the building to which the public are admitted shall throughout be adequately illuminated (A) during the whole time the public is present. The lighting for this purpose (hereinafter referred to as safety lighting) shall be supplied from a separate source from that of the general lighting of the premises and shall not be controllable from the enclosure (B). Where oil lamps are provided colza oil shall be used.

14.—Where electrical energy is used for lighting or other purposes within the building the following requirements shall be observed :—

- (a) Except as otherwise provided in these Regulations, the installation generally shall be in accordance with the Wiring Rules of the Institution of Electrical Engineers.
 - (b) The main supply fuses and switches shall not be accessible to the public. They shall be located where there is ample space and head room and where there is no risk of fire resulting therefrom.
 - (c) A separate circuit shall be taken from the source of supply for the projector circuit so that no accident to this circuit can affect the general lighting.
 - (d) Each of the main circuits shall be separately protected by an efficient linked switch and by a fuse on each pole.
 - (e) The general wiring of the building shall be protected by metal conduit mechanically and electrically continuous or by hard wood casings, except as regards any necessary flexible conductors such as may be required for pendant lamps or movable fittings.
 - (f) All fuses and distribution boards shall be of a completely protected type so constructed that the fuse holders can be handled for renewal of the fuse wires without risk of touching live metal.
 - (g) Portable lamps for the orchestra or similar lighting shall be connected to a separate circuit or circuits from the distribution fuse boards.
 - (h) The electrical installation shall be in charge of a competent person, whether the operator or another, who shall have received an adequate electrical training for his duties.
 - (i) The competent person shall satisfy himself before the commencement of each performance that the electrical apparatus, including the projector circuits, is in proper working order.
- Provided that paragraphs (a), (e), (f), (g) of this Regulation shall not apply to such parts of the electrical installation as were in use before the date of these Regulations, except in the event of such parts being altered or renewed.

15.—No illuminant other than electric light, limelight, or acetylene shall be used within the lantern and the following conditions shall be observed :

(1) Electric Light.—(a) All cables and wires for the projector circuits within and without the enclosure shall be heavily insulated and any necessary slack cable within the enclosure shall be heavily covered with asbestos.

For permanent enclosures installed after the date of these Regulations the cables and wires except as regards any necessary slack cable shall, unless armoured, be further protected by heavy gauge screwed metal conduit efficiently earthed. The conduit and fittings shall be bushed where necessary to prevent abrasion of the insulating material.

For temporary enclosures the cables and wires shall be secured by insulating cleats. Within the enclosure they shall be heavily protected by asbestos and without the enclosure they shall be protected by casings in all positions where they are liable to damage.

(b) An efficient double-pole main switch shall be fixed within the enclosure whereby all pressure may be cut off from the projector circuit or circuits within the enclosure, and where the lantern is earthed an additional double-

(A) By adequate illumination it is meant that there should be such a degree of light as to enable the spectators to see their way out.

(B) e.g., if the general lighting is by electricity, the safety lighting shall be by (a) electricity from another source, (b) gas, or (c) oil or candles.

pole switch shall be fixed for each arc lamp so that the pressure may be cut off whilst recarboning is taking place.

(c) Where two or more projectors are installed and a change-over switch is required, it shall, unless it be a double-pole switch having a secure "off" position, be in addition to and not in substitution for the above main switch.

(d) All live parts of apparatus within five feet of the projector shall be shielded so that they cannot be accidentally touched. The covers of enclosed switches shall be of metal and, with the exception of change-over switches, shall be so constructed that the switch handle does not work through an open slot. Where live metal is exposed so that it may be touched, the floor within a radius of three feet from a point immediately below the live metal shall be covered with insulating material.

(e) Within the enclosure the pressure of the supply between any two conductors or between any conductor and earth shall not at any time exceed 250 volts direct or 125 volts alternating for the projector circuit.

Where the supply of alternating current is at a higher pressure, the pressure shall be reduced by means of a double-wound transformer.

In the case of a stand-by or temporary supply from across the outer conductors of a direct-current 3-wire system exceeding 250 volts, the projector circuit shall be taken as a shunt across part of a resistance connected across the outer conductors of the supply, so that the pressure within the enclosure shall not at any time exceed 250 volts.

(f) The projector motor circuit shall be controlled by a double-pole switch or hand-shield plug. The motor starter and its resistance may be within the enclosure, but these and all other parts of the circuit shall be protected so that no live metal can be inadvertently touched.

(g) Fuses shall be protected by enclosure in covers or cabinets against scattering of hot metal and shall be mounted in carriers or holders, so constructed that the hand cannot inadvertently touch live metal and that the hand is protected from the flash should a fuse blow on the insertion of the carrier in the contacts.

(h) The lamp or lamps for lighting the enclosure and the rewinding room shall not be connected to the safety lighting.

(i) All metal work liable to become accidentally charged, including the projecting apparatus, shall be efficiently earthed. The size of the earth wires shall be in accordance with the requirements of the Wiring Rules of the Institution of Electrical Engineers.

(j) The arc lamp adjusting handles shall be made of insulating material and shall be so constructed and arranged that the hand cannot inadvertently touch live metal.

(k) An ammeter shall be provided in the projector circuit within the enclosure.

(l) Resistances shall be so constructed and maintained that no coil or other part shall at any time become unduly heated. (A)

The framework, supports and enclosures of resistances shall be made entirely of fire-resisting material.

Resistances shall not be attached to wood work and shall, as far as possible, be kept away from any wood work. All wood work shall, where necessary, be effectively protected against overheating.

The terminals of the resistances and the connecting cables shall not be placed above the resistance elements.

Resistances placed where they are liable to be accidentally touched shall be efficiently guarded.

(m) Resistances, in which more than two kilowatts are dissipated, shall be placed outside the enclosure and in a room or place other than the rewinding room accessible only to the technical staff. Adequate precautions shall be taken against fire resulting therefrom. If within the building, the room or place shall not communicate directly with the auditorium. It shall be well ventilated by ample inlets and outlets connecting directly with the outside air.

(A) e.g., they should not become so heated that a piece of newspaper placed in contact with any part of the resistance would readily ignite.

Switches suitably placed shall be provided by means of which the pressure may be cut off from the resistances.

(n) The motor generators or the electrical generating plant, as the case may be, and the main switchgear shall be in a fire-resisting room or rooms which may also contain the main resistances and the main supply fuses and switches. This room shall be well ventilated and shall not communicate directly with the auditorium or any part of the building to which the public are admitted.

Provided that the requirements in paragraphs (c), (d), (m), (n) shall not apply to apparatus in use before the date of these Regulations and the requirements in paragraphs (e), (g), (i), (j), (k) shall not apply, as regards such apparatus, until two years from the said date, except in the event of the apparatus being renewed or materially altered.

(2) Limelight.—The tubing shall be of sufficient strength to resist pressure from without and shall be properly connected up.

Cylinders containing gas under pressure other than acetylene gas shall be constructed, tested and filled in conformity with the recommendations either of the Committee on the manufacture of Compressed Gas Cylinders appointed by the Home Office in 1895 or of the Committee on Compressed Gas Cylinders appointed by the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research in 1918.

(3) Acetylene.—Acetylene, whether or not in conjunction with oxygen shall be used only when supplied :—

- (a) direct from cylinders or other vessels containing a homogeneous porous substance with or without acetone, which, in regard to their contents and the degree of compression, comply with the requirements of the Secretary of State's order (A) regulating the compression of acetylene gas into cylinders containing a porous substance, and in force for the time being; or (b) from a generator which shall be situated outside the building in a place approved by the licensing authority, the gas being supplied to the operator's box, so far as practicable, by pipes of metal other than unalloyed copper, and such flexible tubing as is necessarily employed being of sufficient strength to resist pressure from without and being properly connected up.

Provided that acetylene supplied direct from a generator shall not be employed as an illuminant in wooden buildings or in tents, or other movable or temporary structures.

EXHIBITION OF REGULATIONS. 1

16.—The licensee shall see that a copy of these Regulations is exhibited in the enclosure and is easily accessible to the operators.

BUILDINGS OCCASIONALLY USED.

17.—Where a building is used only occasionally for the purposes of a cinematograph exhibition, the provisions of the following Regulations shall not apply unless specially imposed and notified as conditions by the licensing authority in pursuance of Section 7 of the Act in cases of exceptional danger, viz. :—

Regulations 2(b), 11(b), and 14 (excepting paragraphs (c) (h) and (i) in so far as they relate to the projector circuits), but the following requirements shall be complied with, viz. :—

- (a) The doors of all exits shall be arranged to meet any requirements of the licensing authority.
(b) The film-boxes fitted to the projector shall not exceed 14 inches in diameter, inside measurement.
(c) Not more than 3 spools altogether shall be kept in the enclosure at any one time.

PART II.—PORTABLE PROJECTORS.

18.—Where a portable self-contained projector is used, regulations 2(b), 4(a), 5 to 12 inclusive and 14 to 17 (except 17(a)) inclusive shall not apply

(A) The Order at present in force is that dated the 23rd June, 1919 (Statutory Rules and Orders 1919 No. 809).

provided that regulations 1, 2(a), (c), (d), 3, 4(b) (with the substitution of the words "reserved space" for the word "enclosure"), 13 (with the substitution of the words "reserved space" for the word "enclosure"), 17(a) (whether or not the building is only occasionally used) and 19 to 26 inclusive are complied with.

RESERVED SPACE.

19.—(a) If the projector is erected in any part of the auditorium or any place to which the public have access, effectual means shall be taken, whether by the erection of a suitable barrier or otherwise, to maintain round the projector a clear space of at least 3 feet, hereinafter referred to as "the reserved space."

(b) No unauthorised person shall be allowed within the reserved space.

(c) No smoking shall at any time be permitted within the reserved space.

(d) No inflammable article shall unnecessarily be taken into or allowed to remain in the reserved space.

PROJECTORS AND FILMS.

20.—The projector shall be placed on a firm support and shall be kept clear of the access to any exit.

21.—(a) The projector and the illuminant shall be entirely enclosed in a casing of fire-resisting material except for such openings as are necessary for effective manipulation and ventilation.

(b) Any electric wiring or terminals fitted within the casing shall be so placed that it shall be impossible for films in use in the projector to come in contact with them.

(c) Each electric circuit on the projector shall be fitted with a separate switch controlled from outside the casing, and so placed as to be within reach of the operator when standing at the projector.

(d) No illuminant other than electric light in hermetically sealed lamps shall be used within the projector, and the illuminant shall be separately encased in such a way as to prevent contact with the film.

(e) The heat of the illuminant, and its position in relation to the optical system, shall be such that it is impossible for the rays of light to ignite a stationary film. (A)

22.—(a) The projector shall be fitted with film-boxes of fire-resisting material, which shall be made to close in such a manner, and (where ribbon film is employed) shall be fitted with film-slots so constructed as to prevent the passage of flame to the interior of the box.

(b) The film-boxes shall not be capable of carrying films of more than 10 inches in diameter, and shall be so constructed as to be easily detachable from the apparatus.

(c) All films shall be contained in film-boxes, which shall be attached to or removed from the projector without being opened, so that at no time shall a film be exposed except the portion necessary for threading up.

(d) During an exhibition not more than three film-boxes (including the two actually attached to the projector) shall be in the auditorium at any one time. If further film-boxes are required, they shall be kept in closed metal boxes outside the auditorium, and, if in the building, in a place approved by the licensing authority.

ELECTRIC CIRCUITS FOR THE PROJECTOR.

23.—(a) All electric conductors shall be of adequate size for the current they have to carry and shall be efficiently covered with insulating material and shall be either (i) placed out of reach of persons in the auditorium and where they are not liable to damage, or (ii) protected against injury by suitable casings.

(A) This requirement will be considered as met if a film stationary in the film-gate fails to ignite within a period of three minutes.

(b) Resistances shall be made entirely of fire-resisting material, and shall be so constructed and maintained that no coil or other part at any time shall become unduly heated. (A) If inside the auditorium, they shall be adequately protected by a wire guard or other efficient means of preventing accidental contact, and shall not be placed within reach of persons in the audience.

(c) The operator shall satisfy himself before the commencement of each performance that all cables, leads, connections, resistances, and fuses are in proper working order. The resistances, if not under constant observation, shall be inspected at least once during each performance. If any fault is detected, current shall be immediately switched off, and shall remain switched off until the fault has been remedied.

(d) The projector circuit shall be independently protected by a double pole switch and fuses properly enclosed and placed near the source of supply or the point of connection with the general lighting supply, as the case may be. Provided that, where the current does not exceed five amperes and the connection of the projector circuit to the general lighting supply is made by means of a connector as described in paragraph (e) below, such a connector may be used in substitution for a double-pole switch.

(e) Where the projector circuit is connected to the general lighting supply it shall be connected only at a point where the wires of the general lighting supply are of ample size for the current they may have to carry, and the connection shall be either by (a) securely made joints or connections, or (b) a properly constructed wall type connector of hand shield type. It shall not be connected to any lighting fitting, or by means of an "adaptor" to a lamp-holder.

EXHIBITION OF REGULATIONS.

24.—A copy of so much of these Regulations as applies when a portable projector is used shall be exhibited in any room or place in which a portable projector is used for the purposes of an exhibition.

PART III.—LICENCES.

25.—Subject to the provisions of No. 26 of these Regulations, every licence granted under the Act shall contain a clause providing for its suspension by the licensing authority in the event of any failure on the part of the licensee to carry out these Regulations, or of the building becoming otherwise unsafe, or of any material alteration being made in the building or enclosure without the consent of the licensing authority.

26.—Where a licence has been granted under the Act in respect of a movable building, a plan and description of the building, certified with the approval of the licensing authority, shall be attached to the licence. Such a licence may provide that any of the conditions or restrictions contained therein may be modified either by the licensing authority, or by the licensing authority for the district where an exhibition is about to be given. The licence and plan and description or any of them shall be produced on demand to any police constable or to any person authorised by the licensing authority, or by the authority in whose district the building is being, or is about to be, used for the purpose of an exhibition.

PART IV.—REPEAL.

27.—The Regulations dated February 18th, 1910 (B), and May 20th, 1913 (c) made under the Cinematograph Act, 1909, are hereby repealed, provided nevertheless that any licence granted prior to such repeal shall remain valid for the period for which it was granted without the imposition of any more stringent condition than may have been imposed at the time of the grant

(A) e.g., they should not become so heated that a piece of newspaper placed in contact with any part of the resistance would readily ignite.

Cinematograph Films Act, 1927.

An Act to restrict blind booking and advance booking of cinematograph films, and to secure the renting and exhibition of a certain proportion of British films, and for purposes connected therewith.

Be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

PART I

RESTRICTIONS ON BLIND BOOKING AND ADVANCE BOOKING OF FILMS.

1.—(Restriction on Blind Booking of Films).—(1) As from the commencement of this Act, no agreement shall be entered into to rent or imposing an obligation, when called on to rent for public exhibition in Great Britain any film to which this Act applies unless every such film to which the agreement relates has been registered under this Act or a valid application for the registration thereof has been made:

Provided that—

(a) this provision shall not apply to a film which has been exhibited to exhibitors or to the public in Great Britain before the commencement of this Act; and

(b) in the case of a serial film or a series of films within the meaning of this Act, it shall be sufficient if any three parts thereof have been registered or a valid application for the registration of three parts thereof has been made.

(2) In the case of a film which has not been previously exhibited to exhibitors or to the public in Great Britain, this section shall not operate so as to prohibit the making prior to the registration or application for registration thereof of an agreement for the exhibition of the film in one theatre only on a number of consecutive days.

2.—(Restriction on Advance Booking).—(1) As from the commencement of this Act, no agreement shall be entered into for the exhibition to the public in Great Britain at a date later than the expiration of the authorised period from the date of the agreement of any film to which this Act applies:

Provided that in the case of a serial film or a series of films within the meaning of this Act, the authorised period shall apply only in respect of the date of exhibition of the first three parts.

Provided that in the case of a serial film or a series of films within the meaning of this Act the authorised period shall apply only in respect of the date of exhibition of the first three parts.

(2) For the purposes of this section the authorised period shall—

(a) in the case of an agreement made before the first day of October, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, be twelve months;

(b) in the case of an agreement made on or after the first day of October, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, and before the first day of October, nineteen hundred and thirty, be nine months;

(c) in the case of an agreement made on or after the first day of October, nineteen hundred and thirty, be six months.

3.—(Penalty on Contraventions).—If any person enters into an agreement in contravention of this Part of this Act, or if any person exhibits to the public in Great Britain a film the right to exhibit which has been acquired by him under any such agreement, he shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds, and any agreement in contravention of this part of the Act, wherever made, shall be invalid.

4.—(Provision as to Existing Agreements).—Any agreement entered into after the twenty-fifth day of September, nineteen hundred and twenty-six, and before the commencement of this Act which if entered into after the commencement of this Act would be an invalid Agreement under the foregoing provisions or this Part of this Act shall, if and so far as it affects any films to which this Act applies to be delivered for public exhibition in Great Britain after the thirty-first day of December, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, cease to have effect on that day.

PART II.

REGISTRATION OF FILMS.

5.—(Prohibition Against Exhibition of Unregistered Films).—(1) On and after the first day of April, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, no film to which this Act applies, or, in the case of a serial film or a series of films, no part thereof, shall be exhibited to the public in Great Britain unless the film or the part thereof exhibited has been registered in accordance with this Part of this Act:

Provided that—

(a) a film in respect of which a provisional application for registration has been made may, before registration, be exhibited in Great Britain at a series of public exhibitions held at one theatre only on consecutive days.

(b) the prohibition contained in this section shall not apply to a film which has been exhibited before the commencement of this Act.

(2) If any person exhibits a film, or, in the case of a serial film or a series of films, any part thereof, in contravention of this section he shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds for each day on which the film or part has been so exhibited.

6.—(Registration of Films.)—(1) The Board of Trade shall keep a register of films to which this Act applies, and shall enter therein such particulars as may be prescribed; and the register shall specify whether the film is registered as a British film or a foreign film.

Provided that a film which has been exhibited to exhibitors or to the public before the first day of October, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven shall not be registered unless the Board of Trade, after consultation with the Advisory Committee hereinafter mentioned, determine that the registration of the film shall be allowed.

(2) The Board of Trade shall publish weekly in the "Board of Trade Journal" lists of the films registered in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(3) An application to register a film shall be made by or on behalf of the maker or renter of the film, and shall be accompanied by the prescribed fee, and by such information as the Board of Trade may require, and in particular, where the application is for the registration of the film as a British film, such information as may be necessary to determine whether the film is a British film.

(4) An application shall not be a valid application unless the film has been trade shown, nor if more than fourteen days have elapsed since it was trade shown:

Provided that—

(a) a provisional application may be made before a film has been trade shown, and in such case on the film being trade shown within six weeks after the lodging of the provisional application, the provisional application shall as from the date of the trade show become a valid application.

(b) an application made more than fourteen days after the film was trade shown may be accepted by the Board as a valid application if satisfied that the delay was due to special circumstances and was not intentional.

(5) On the registration of a film, the Board shall issue to the applicant a certificate of registration, and the certificate shall state the length of the film and whether the film is registered as a British film or a foreign film.

7.—(Inspection of Register, etc.)—(1) The register of films kept under this Act shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by any person on payment of the prescribed fee, and any person inspecting the register may make copies or extracts from the register.

(2) Any person may on payment of the prescribed fee require to be furnished with a copy of any entry in the register certified to be a true copy by an officer of the Board of Trade appointed to keep the register.

(3) The registration of a film may be proved by the production of a copy of the Board of Trade Journal, containing a notification of the registration of the film or, of a certificate of registration, or of a certified copy of the entry in the register relating to the film, and a certificate purporting to be a certificate of registration or a copy of any entry purporting to be certified as a true copy by such officer as aforesaid shall in all legal proceedings be evidence of the matters stated therein without proof of the signature or authority of the person signing it.

8.—(Correction of Register.)—(1) If the Board of Trade at any time have reason to believe that the length of a film has been or has become incorrectly registered, or that a film has been incorrectly registered as a British film, they may call for such evidence as they think fit as to the correctness or otherwise of the registration, and if satisfied that the film has been or is incorrectly registered, they shall correct the register and issue an amended certificate of registration.

(2) On the issue of an amended certificate, the former certificate shall cease to have effect except that the Board of Trade may in any particular case allow the film to be counted for the purposes of the provisions of Part III. of this Act relating to renters' and exhibitors' quotas as being of the length originally registered, or as a British film, as the case may be.

9.—Power to Require Reference to High Court.—(1) If any person is aggrieved by the refusal of the Board of Trade to register a film, or to register a film as a British film, or by a decision of the Board to correct the registration of a film, the matter shall, subject to rules of court, be referred by the Board of Trade to the High Court for determination, and the decision of the Court on any such reference shall be final and no appeal shall lie therefrom to any other court.

(2) When the person aggrieved is a person whose principal place of business is in Scotland, his section shall apply as if the reference to the High Court were a reference to the Court of Session.

10.—(Provisions as to Alterations of the Length of Films.)—(1) If the length of a film is altered to the extent of more than ten per cent. thereof after an application for registration thereof has been lodged or after the registration thereof, it shall be the duty of the maker of the film or, if at the time of alteration the film has been acquired by a renter, the renter, to send to the Board of Trade notice of the alteration, and if he fails to do so, he shall be guilty of an offence, and shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds.

11.—(Marking of Registered Films.)—(1) On every copy of a registered film there shall be marked in the prescribed manner:—

(a) the registered number of the film;

(b) the person in whose name the film is registered;

(c) the registered length of the film;

(d) the words "registered as a British film" or "registered as a foreign film," as the case may be.

Provided that it shall not be necessary to comply with the above requirements in respect of any film if, whenever a copy thereof is issued to an exhibitor for exhibition to the public in Great Britain, an invoice containing such particulars as aforesaid is sent by the renter to the exhibitor.

(2) If after copies of a film have been so marked or invoices have been so sent the registration of the film is corrected in manner provided by this part of the Act, then—

- (a) in the former case a corresponding alteration shall be made in all copies of the film; and
- (b) in the latter case, new invoices containing the correct particulars shall be sent.

(3) If any person fails to comply with any of the provisions of this section, or issues a copy of any registered film incorrectly marked or any invoice containing incorrect particulars, he shall be guilty of an offence, and shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds in respect of each copy.

12.—(Special Provisions as to Serial Films, etc.)—In the case of a serial film or a series of films the provisions of this Part of this Act shall apply subject to the following modifications:—

(1) The separate parts of the film or series of films shall be separately registered and each part shall be treated as a separate film;

(2) Where three parts of the film or series have been trade shown, any other part may be registered without having been trade shown and notwithstanding that more than fourteen days have elapsed since the said three parts were trade shown.

Provided that if the Board are at any time of opinion that it is no longer desirable to dispense with a trade show in the case of the remaining parts of serial films and series of films, they may make an order to that effect, and on the making of the order this paragraph shall cease to apply.

PART III.

PROVISIONS FOR SECURING QUOTA OF BRITISH FILMS.

By the Renters.

QUOTA PROSECUTIONS: SUNDAY OPENING

Renters' Prosecutions.—During the calendar year the Board of Trade has prosecuted seven renters for non-fulfilment of Quota requirements. Convictions were obtained in five cases, and the cases against Producers Distributing Co., Ltd., and United Kingdom Photoplays, Ltd., were dismissed under the Probation of Offenders Act on payment of costs.

Exhibitor Defaulters.—Twenty-five prosecutions were instituted against exhibitors for not complying with the Quota requirements. Of this number, one case was dismissed with costs against the Board of Trade, and two offenders were given the benefit of the Probation of Offenders Act.

Case Dismissed.—On January 15 when P.D.C. was summoned at Marlborough Street, Mr. Rooome said the offence was not so serious as in the last case. The company acquired during the year 35 long foreign films totaling 197,000 ft., 17 short foreign films, 16,000 ft., and two long British films, 11,642 ft. The company's quota of long films was 5.57 per cent., and in the case of old films, 5.19 per cent. The company pleaded that the pictures contracted for were not delivered by the English producer, and it had to make last-minute arrangements, with the result that one intended for the quota was not registered in time, and was not finally passed by the Censor until April 10, although it was trade shown within the period. As the company had gone into actual production, Mr. Dummett said that, having regard to the undertaking given, he dismissed the case under the Probation of Offenders Act on payment of 20 guineas costs.

U.K. Photoplays.—The second case was against United Kingdom Photoplays, Ltd., a firm which was in the hands of a receiver of a debenture holder.

The Marlborough Street magistrate, admitting that the receiver was in a difficult position, dismissed the summons on payment of 5 guineas costs.

Manchester Case Dismissed.—At Manchester City Police Court in July, the Board of Trade brought an unsuccessful action against the Blackley Palais de Danse, Ltd., proprietors of the Palladium, Blackley, who were allowed five guineas costs.

For the Board of Trade, G. Hockin said that up to the end of September last the defendants had shown only 71 per cent. of British films. Mr. Finklestone, for the defendants, urged that his clients had done all in their power to comply with the regulations, but they had been hampered by the delay in the opening of the Palladium. This delay was through frost and building disputes. Instead of opening in March, they could not open until June 18. In September the defendants endeavoured to get talkies, but they were unable to book British talkies then. He pointed out that if the year had been taken from June to June the percentage of British films screened was 25 per cent. more than the quota.

The chairman of the magistrates said they were satisfied that the defence was a good one and the summons would be dismissed. On the defendants' application for costs, five guineas was awarded.

Not Commercially Practicable.—"The Bench are satisfied that, in many instances, it has not been commercially practicable to show British films, even when available." With this observation the Oldham magistrates dismissed a summons against Douglas McVitie under the Kinematograph Act of 1927.

McVitie, it was stated, showed only 1.81 per cent., though 129 British films were available for exhibition. A solicitor for McVitie said McVitie was desirous of presenting British films, "providing they are good and available, but if there had been good British films an Act of Parliament would not have been necessary to impose them on the British public." The solicitor said McVitie was confined to three film renters, and two had defaulted so far as the quota of British films was concerned. He had endeavoured to get British films from other renters, but was unable to do so.

Sunday Opening Illegal.—A Divisional Court of the King's Bench Division composed of Justices Avory, Swift and Acton, on December 4, made absolute a rule quashing the London County Council's "permission" for Sunday opening of the Streatham Astoria and ordered costs against the L.C.C. The matter came before the court upon a rule nisi that had been obtained at the instance of the Entertainments' Protection Association, Ltd., calling on the London County Council to hear and determine according to law, an application by the Astoria Cinema Theatre at Streatham to give entertainments on Sundays, Good Fridays and Christmas Days. It was stated when the rule was granted that the L.C.C. had given such permission to the Astoria provided that a sum was paid to a charity. The Sunday Observance Act prohibited such entertainments on Sunday where the public paid for admission.

Sir F. Boyd Merriman, K.C., for the L.C.C., said that, in dealing with kinematograph, theatres within the area of the London County Council, the Council, in pursuance of a policy which had in fact been in force for twenty years or thereabouts, or the appropriate committee of the Council, had announced their intention, on certain conditions, of not taking action against kinemas, and in particular the Streatham Astoria Cinematograph Theatre, if those kinemas opened on Sunday, in spite of the fact that the substantive licence granted by the Council contained conditions against such an opening. Applications had been granted on certain strict conditions, one being that the profits should be handed to a charity. In the current year something like £200,000 went as a result of the Sunday openings to the selected charities of London. At any moment the permission could be revoked. The Council said nothing and could say nothing whatever to prevent anybody else from taking action.

When Sir Boyd was dealing with the procedure adopted by the L.C.C. in granting the licences, Mr. Justice Swift remarked, "It is all bunkum! They had no power to hear such applications, or grant them. This is mere empty form. I very much doubt whether the general public knows when the clerk of the L.C.C. issues a circular of this sort that it is all rubbish and that the Council cannot do any of the things they say they can."

Sir Robert Merriman, in addressing the court, had referred to the arrangement for granting the licences as "a gentleman's bargain."

Mr. Justice Swift: You call it a gentleman's bargain. I suppose that to open a place on Sunday, contrary to law, is not a felony, nor is it a misdemeanour. It looks like some arrangement by which the law is set at defiance, and those who break it are not to be prosecuted.

Sir Boyd: Not to be prosecuted by the London County Council.

Mr. Justice Swift: They are the people who are put in control of this sort of entertainment.

Sir Boyd: The London County Council in one sense are put in charge of the entertainment to this extent, and this extent only—that they have the power to say that unless we give permission for certain premises to be used they shall not be used.

Mr. Justice Avory: Is not their statutory duty to act according to law?

Sir Boyd: Certainly their duty in dealing with the statute is to act according to law, but whether, having acted according to law, they are to be compelled to say in advance that they either will or will not prosecute or take action in the event of a man breaking the Sunday Observance Act, or, indeed, the Cinematograph Act, is surely another question.

Sir Boyd said that at any moment such permission, if one could call it permission, as the Council had given, could be revoked.

Mr. R. M. Montgomery, K.C., supporting the rule, said that the practical result of an order of the court quashing the licence would be very great. Then the Commissioner of Police might take proceedings in respect of alleged offences against the Cinematograph or Lord's Day Observance Acts.

Mr. Justice Avory, giving judgment, said he could entertain no doubt, after listening to the arguments, that the rule for mandamus ought to be discharged on the ground that it was not appropriate in the circumstances, and that the rule for certiorari ought to be made absolute to quash the Council's order. He thought that the Council did that which they had no power to do—namely, grant permission to this particular applicant to open these premises on Sunday for cinematograph entertainment. The Council were usurping jurisdiction, and were, in fact, granting permission to the applicant to do something which was expressly forbidden by the Sunday Observance Act. The Court made the rule absolute, quashing the county Council's "permission" for Sunday opening of the Streatham Astoria, and ordered costs against the London County Council. The rule is to lie in the office for fourteen days. Justices Swift and Acton agreed.

TRADE DISPUTES.

Unsatisfactory Talkie Apparatus.—In the Chancery Division in November, Mr. Justice Bennett heard a motion, in the action of Mrs. Laura Smithson, v. RCA Photophone, Incorporated, of New York, for an order that defendants should forthwith remove from the Theatre Royal, Merthyr Tydfil, a talking picture apparatus. Mr. Gover, K.C., for the plaintiff, said from the beginning the apparatus proved unsuitable. Constant adjustments were made by defendants' representative on plaintiff's complaints without any real improvement, and the result had been that the attendances at the theatre had fallen off and plaintiff was losing money. Plaintiff gave notice repudiating the contract and requesting defendants to remove the apparatus, but defendants refused. While their apparatus was there it was impossible to instal any other apparatus. Sir Thomas Hughes, K.C., for the defence, said there was a serious conflict of evidence. Defendants' case was that the apparatus was perfectly effective, and whenever anything went wrong it was immediately put right by their representative, and plaintiff's manager certified everything was satisfactory. Whatever defects had occurred, defendants suggested were due to the carelessness of operation. Plaintiff was asking to have the whole matter decided on this motion. Defendants refused to agree to that, but they were prepared to have an early trial of the action, and in the meantime would send a perfectly competent man to the theatre to work the apparatus. Mr. Gover said a very speedy trial might solve the problem, though there were certain difficulties.

£10,000 Award.—Judgment was given in the King's Bench Division on April 10 for Ideal Films, Ltd., who brought an action involving £10,000 against British International Pictures Ltd.

The case concerned the transfer of the right to produce a number of Pathé films. The agreement under which the plaintiffs paid the defendants £10,000 was conditional upon the Pathé Exchange Incorporation of New York signing an agreement before May 31, 1929. If Pathé did not sign before that date, the £10,000 which had already been paid by the plaintiffs to the defendants, was to be repaid with interest. The plaintiffs paid the money to the defendants on April 9, 1929, and in May, 1929, the plaintiffs received a letter from Pathé in New York refusing to enter into the agreement.

Sir Boyd Merriman, K.C., said the assigning of these rights to release 78 Pathé news films for the defendants was made subject to Pathé signing a corresponding agreement for an extension of time, and debarring themselves from putting similar films on the market before the expiration of the date of the agreement. If they did not sign it by that date, then the £10,000 already paid should be repaid with interest.

It was said by the defendants, continued counsel, that even if they did not sign it before that date the agreement still subsisted, and that the plaintiffs were not entitled to the return of their money, but, on the contrary, the plaintiffs should pay the two additional instalments of £5,000.

For the defence counsel submitted that the reason why the plaintiffs wished to have the contract cancelled was through the successful competition of talkies with silent films, and what at first appeared to be profitable subsequently proved to be unprofitable.

His Lordship said that the point in the defence seemed to be, did the plaintiffs fail to obtain the signature of Pathé to the agreement through any omission on the plaintiffs' part? In giving judgment for the plaintiffs for the amount claimed with costs, his Lordship said that the plaintiffs had acted in good faith. The counterclaim was dismissed with costs, and a stay of execution granted pending notice of appeal.

Question of Earlier Booking.—In the Westminster County Court in November, Paramount claimed £7 10s. from Stockwell Amusements, Ltd., Clapham Road, Stockwell, S.W. A larger claim for rent of films had been entered in the High Court and settled, and the amount sued for concerned rent of the film "Wolf of Wall Street." The defence was that the film was booked on the assurance that it had not been previously booked for exhibition at the Brixton Astoria and that there was breach of contract in this regard. Alfred Guyster, managing director of Stockwell Amusements, Ltd., said that plaintiffs' representative knew very well that he did not book films if they had prior exhibition at the Brixton Astoria, which was a few yards away from his cinema, though he did not mind if they had been booked for the Brixton Pavilion, which was some 800 yards away. Mr. Stenham, barrister, for plaintiffs, pointed out that the contract was made in April, 1929, and the Astoria did not open till August, and that was earlier than was at first expected. Mr. Share, barrister, for the defendant Company, submitted there was breach of a collateral contract upon which the contract depended. Judge Turner: It is not collateral if it is dependent upon it. Judgment for plaintiffs for £7 10s. and costs.

BREACH OF CONTRACT

Talkie or Synchronised?—In the King's Bench Division in November, Mr. Justice Talbot heard an action brought by the United Artists Corporation, Ltd., against Horace Shepherd, of Wardour Street, claiming £400 for hire of films. Mr. G. M. Hilbery, K.C., for plaintiffs, said that there was no question in the defence raised as to the sum claimed, but there was a counter-claim that the contract was obtained by alleged misrepresentation. Defendant, who conducted his own case, said he rented the Winter Gardens in Southport for four months from April, 1929. On September 9 of that year he booked "White Cargo," but owing to the death of the principal artiste before its completion he was left without any film for one of his most important weeks. Under those circumstances he arranged with Mr. Carr to rent the film "Iron Mask," on his representing that it was a talking film. It was, however, only a synchronised musical film. He counterclaimed for loss of profits. The plaintiffs' reply to the counterclaim was that the terms of the contract signed by defendant had not been departed from, neither had there been any misrepresentation. The jury returned a verdict for United Artists Corporation on the claim and counter-claim. His lordship entered judgment accordingly.

"Tentative Dates" Defence.—Tiffany Productions, Ltd., Wardour Street, W., claimed £100 from Oaksford Theatres, Limited, Mansfield, Notts, at Westminster County Court, on November 7, for breach of contract for the hire of two films. Plaintiffs said that the films "Molly and Me" and "Two Men and a Maid" were ordered by defendants for exhibition for six days each from January 20 and February 17, the terms being 33½ per cent. of net bookings or a minimum of £50 each. The agreement provided that if the hiring period was postponed, payment should not be postponed. Mr. Oaksford, of the defendant company, said he regarded the whole matter as a tentative one, and not a contract to exhibit the films at the Hippodrome or the Plaza, Mansfield, as set out in contract documents, copies of which were sent to him. Mr. T. Dawson, barrister, for the defence, contended that there never was a liability to pay, for the dates, being tentative, did not bind either side to exhibition of the films on the dates given in the contract. Judge Sir Alfred Tobin said that Mr. Oaksford in fact said that he signed a blank piece of paper, but he did not suggest that he was not bound by the typewritten terms over his signature. He kept the copies of contracts without protest. Judgment for plaintiffs for £100 and costs.

"The Only Way" Appeal Fails.—The Court of Appeal, consisting of Lords Justices Scrutton, Lawrence and Slesser, on April 14, delivered their reserved judgment in the appeal by Herbert Wilcox Productions, Ltd., of Shaftesbury Avenue, producers of the film version of "The Only Way," with Sir John Martin Harvey as Sydney Carton, from the judgment of Mr. Justice MacKinnon in the action brought by them against First National Pictures, Ltd., of Oxford Street, the film renters, under an agreement made in 1925.

Lord Justice Scrutton, giving judgment, said that Herbert Wilcox Productions, Ltd., alleged misconduct on the part of the agents; 1,100 contracts were made for showing "The Only Way." The Americans were a little alarmed by the prospect of legislation, and when an all-British film like "The Only Way" was offered to them they were glad to include it among the pictures they sold. It was offered with three other super-films—"Quo Vadis," an Italian, "The Wings of Chance" and "Greater Glory." The receipts for "The Only Way" were £39,000; those for "Quo Vadis," £27,700; "Wings of Chance," £15,570; "The Greater Glory," £22,100. Plaintiffs were not content with this advantage, but sought to use it by saying that a greater portion of the block bookings should have been allocated to "The Only Way." Two questions of principle were raised. In his opinion Herbert Wilcox Productions, Ltd., had no ground for complaint against the block bookings. Sometimes they operated to the advantage of "The Only Way," sometimes to that of other films. There were only two small cases in which a grievance had been established and in respect of them the total damages was 75s. There were no substantial breaches of contract, and the claim for an account failed. Plaintiffs must have judgment for 75s., but as they had substantially failed they must pay the costs of the appeal. Lords Justices Lawrence and Slesser concurred.

ROYALTIES

Talkie Royalties.—An action arising out of the conversion into a talking picture of the silent version of "To What Red Hell," was heard by Mr. Justice MacKinnon in the King's Bench Division on July 25.

The Twickenham Film Studios, Ltd., of Alliance Studios, St. Margaret's, Middlesex, sued Tiffany Productions, Ltd., of Wardour Street, London, W., the owners of the silent film, for the sum of £824, which was alleged to be due under the terms of a contract dated June 13, 1929, whereby the plaintiffs undertook the synchronisation of the film. The work was duly carried out and the plaintiffs became indebted to the amount of £824 to the R.C.A. Photophone Incorporated for certain royalties.

The plaintiffs asked the Court to say that this sum represented costs and expenses which the defendants were liable to pay.

Tiffany Productions, Ltd., maintained that this expense fell within a clause of their agreement with the plaintiffs whereby it was set out that Twickenham Film Studios, Ltd., were to receive remuneration amounting to £2,150 in respect of—

(a) The services of the producer, Mr. Greenwood.

(b) All rental and other payments, howsoever called, for (1) the use of the studios; (2) the use of the sound recording and reproducing apparatus, and all equipment, no matter how long the work should take.

(c) All services rendered by the plaintiffs, or example, the cutting and editing of the film.

(d) Cost of the scenario and treatment.

His Lordship, giving judgment, said that in his view the payment of £824 to R. C. A. Photophone, though it had been described as a royalty, was a payment for the use of the apparatus. It fell within the clause of the agreement between the parties as to the remuneration of the plaintiffs.

The defendants were not liable to pay this sum, and there would be judgment in their favour with costs.

BREACH OF REGULATIONS

Kinema Left Without Deputy.—At Acton, George Alexander, of the Kinema, Horn Lane, Acton, was fined £1 for having failed to nominate in writing a person to be in charge of the theatre in his own absence. He was also fined £3 and costs for not keeping the rear exit passageway of the kinema free from obstruction on May 9. Mr. Alexander admitted the obstruction, but pleaded not guilty to the other summonses. Evidence by a Middlesex County Council inspector was to the effect that he found the rear exit passageway obstructed by a hand truck, bricks, etc. He saw the man at the door, and was informed that there was no manager and that he was not in charge. Mr. Alexander said the passage was not his property. Shop-fitters were at work at the side of the theatre. He admitted that someone should have been nominated in writing in charge. The doorman was in charge, and he knew it quite well.

GENERAL

Paisley Panic Sequel.—The trial commenced in the High Court, Edinburgh, on April 29, of Charles Dorward, manager of the Glen Cinema, Paisley, where the fire panic occurred on Hogmanay. The Lord Justice Clerk presided. Immediately the Court sat, MacGregor Mitchell, K.C., for accused, objected to the relevancy of the indictment. He urged (1) that there was no relevant averment of a common law crime libelled; (2) that the libel so far as based on habitually, and as a matter of practice, relating to the shut gate, was incompetent and irrelevant; (3) that indictment was irrelevant for lack of specification; and (4) that the charge that the accused permitted the iron trellis gate to be kept closed and padlocked was irrelevant to infer criminal responsibility. Counsel said that the indictment was ambiguous and unprecedented in its terms. In a serious charge like culpable homicide suggestions of habituality should not be made without strong reason and court should be assured that they would not prejudice accused with the jury. The Lord Advocate agreed to the amendment of the indictment so as to confine the allegation that the gate was permitted to be padlocked to one specific occasion on the day of the disaster. The Lord Justice Clerk announced he was not prepared at that stage to sustain any of the objections to the indictment. "The gravamen of the charge," he said, "is that panic or no panic, if the gate had not been locked the deaths of those children would, or might, have been avoided." Alexander

Rosie, the operator, and James M'Vey, his assistant, said a two reel Western drama, "The Desperate Dude," was being shown by Rosie. M'Vey left the operating box with a reel, and came back in about five minutes, saying part of the reel was on fire. Rosie told M'Vey to "get the boss," and went on showing the film. He smelt burning film, and when smoke came into the box he stopped the machine, and opened the door. The vestibule was full of smoke, and there was smoke round about the door of the area. Shown an accumulator, he said it was used in connection with a panatrope, and had been taken to the winding-room that day on his instructions. James M'Vey, a small boy in shorts, said he laid the container with the film against the accumulator, and it went on fire. Smoking had nothing to do with the fire. When the manager came down, he opened the side door, and kicked the burning film into waste ground. James Glen, an attendant, said when he saw smoke coming into the area he ran out and round to the back entrance, because he knew the back gate was locked. It was always locked. "When you say, it was always locked, what do you mean?" "It was always padlocked when I went round." Det.-Insp. Galbraith said when he was arrested, Dorward said: "This is a grave charge, but the gate was not closed. I opened it myself." Evidence was then led by a number of children. Several said the gate was closed when they went round to get out that way. Adult witnesses also testified that the gate at the back was locked. At this stage, the charge was amended, making Dorward responsible for the deaths of eleven children, and not 70. Dorward, in the witness box, said he unlocked the gate and put the padlock on to the post, and just opened the gate enough to let himself out. He returned to the kinema by the Gilmour Street entrance. He never went down to lock the padlock gate again. About 1.15 he went down and pushed the gate right back and went back to the hall. He did not, however, padlock it to the wall. That was apparently the mistake he made. The Lord Justice Clerk, said there were three questions which the jury had to answer. Had the Crown proved beyond reasonable doubt that on December 31 the trellis gate was closed and padlocked? Six Crown witnesses supported this contention. If the jury answered the first question in the affirmative, the second question they had to answer was whether the conduct of the accused in allowing the gate to be padlocked was of so serious a character as to amount to culpable homicide. If the jury held there was serious fault, the third question was whether the fault caused the death of those unfortunate children. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Conspiracy Allegations Fail.—At the Swansea Assizes several well-known kinema managers were charged on various counts for alleged conspiracy. Accused were Phillip Abse, aged 34, kinema proprietor; Eli Fine, 36, kinema manager; Lily Spiro, 30, kinema manageress; Jacob Solomon, 39, kinema manager; and Arnold Aaron Abse, 30, who were accused of joint conspiracy in respect to films renting for the Palace Cinema, Bridgend. Phillip Abse and certain of the other accused were similarly charged in respect to the Hippodrome, Llanelly.

Before the accused were asked to plead, Sir Henry Maddocks, K.C., asked that the count alleging general conspiracy should be quashed on the legal point that when the matter came before the court there were more persons charged than in the present indictment. The situation was Gilbertian, he said, in that accused had never been charged together and were never in the dock together.

The judge upheld the appeal, despite the objection of Roland Oliver, K.C., prosecuting, and ordered the count to be quashed. He also concluded, he said, that it would not be justice to try counts 2, 3, 4 and 5 together. If gone into they must be taken separately.

The judge's ruling having been considered by counsel during an adjournment ordered for the purpose, only Phillip Abse and Lily Spiro were placed in the dock. They were accused of conspiring together to defraud firms renting films to the Palace Cinema, Bridgend.

Mr. Oliver, K.C., said that in this case the allegation was that the film renters were to be given one-third of the proceeds (the gross takings) with a guarantee that it should not be less than £20 in three days. In order to arrive at what was due to renters, counsel said, tickets issued were tabulated, but it would be alleged that tickets not included in the tabulation were sold surreptitiously to defraud the renters.

Evidence was given to confirm counsel's statement.

Charles Stanley Greenslade, of the Fox Film Co., said that his company had not received any payment for the matinee performance of "Lone Star Ranger," which, unauthorised, replaced "Skin Deep" that afternoon. He had not asked for payment, and to his knowledge no matinee returns had been asked for.

The defence put in a letter from Fox Film Co.'s solicitor acknowledging receipt of £169 in full settlement of account due to them, received from Mrs. Abse. Witness said he could not explain it.

Mr. Oliver asked permission to call three other witnesses, but Sir Henry Maddocks argued that such evidence could not be admitted. The judge upheld the objection.

Sir Henry Maddocks' contention that there was no case to reply to was upheld by the Judge, who ruled that there had been no evidence to show that Mr. Abse knew of any fraud which might be alleged. There was, thus, no conspiracy.

Mr. Oliver said he could not address the jury to the effect that Miss Spiro conspired against herself, and on the direction of the Judge a formal verdict of "Not Guilty" was found in respect to Miss Spiro, Mr. Abse having been already discharged on the judge's direction of there being no case against him.

Mr. Abse and the other defendants then made formal "Not Guilty" plea to the counts alleged, respectively, against them and the jury recorded formal "Not Guilty" verdicts, all the accused being discharged.

Film Actors and Compensation Act.—Mrs. Marie Armour, actress, professionally known as Marie Mischel, applied at Westminster County Court on May 23 for an award under the Workmen's Compensation Act. She received injury to her left knee while engaged in the filming of the panic scene in the film "Atlantic" on board the liner "Comoran" at Tilbury Dock. She declared that she was incapacitated and claimed an award against the producers of the film, the British International Pictures, Ltd. In giving judgment, Judge Turner said in this case each of the people was an actor or actress on his or her own. There was really no direct control exercised over them, and therefore he came to the conclusion that this case was one of a class of cases in which the contract was for service and not of service. "Therefore," concluded Judge Turner, "with regret I hold that the applicant has failed, and with costs." Award for the defendants with costs on Scale B.

Musicians' Recording Rights.—Questions relating to the employment of musicians in the making of talking and sound films were decided in the King's Bench Division on June 4, when Mr. Justice McCardie gave judgment for British International Pictures, Ltd., in the action which was brought against them by the Musical Performers' Protection Association, Ltd., of New Burlington Street, London, W.

The Association sought to obtain from the Court a declaration that the defendant company were not entitled knowingly to make any record or records from or by means of the performance of five members of the Association who played in an orchestra which was employed in the making of the "talkie" film "Blackmail" at Elstree; or to sell or let for hire such records without the consent in writing of the plaintiff association or alternatively without the consent in writing of each.

His Lordship, giving judgment, said that he saw no merit at all in the plaintiffs' case upon the facts before him.

The five musicians knew they were playing for no other purpose than to enable the defendants to utilise their performance in order to produce the film "Blackmail."

It happened, however, that the defendants overlooked the provisions of the Dramatic and Musical Performers Act, 1925, otherwise they would have demanded and doubtless would have obtained the signature in writing of each of the five performers.

If the plaintiff company were correct in their contentions in the case it would follow that they possessed a powerful and menacing instrument of pressure against the defendants. They would be able to impose what terms they would unless the defendants were prepared to face a grave financial loss through being unable to let out the film.

His Lordship further said he was satisfied that the Act of 1925 gave the five performers no right of property in their performances.

The plaintiffs' claim would be dismissed and there would be judgment for the film company with costs.

Kinema Incendiarism.—At Bedford Assizes, Frank Roylance, cinema proprietor, William White Rogers, traveller, and Jonathan Hardy insurance broker, appeared on a charge of conspiring with other persons unknown to set fire to the Gordon Street Cinema, Luton. Roylance pleaded guilty, and Rogers and Hardy not guilty. Sir Henry Maddocks, for the prosecution, said that Roylance bought the theatre in May, 1928, insured it for £6,000, and £1,000 possible loss of profits, resulting from fire. Roylance owed the bank £4,100 on October 15. Hardy, who, according to an earlier witness, said he had arranged fires all over the country, stated that this was the only time he had passed money in connection with a fire, and he got nothing out of it. The matter was first mentioned to him by Mr. S. C. Dillingham, of Luton, who offered him a capital sum of £500. Hardy, said that after the "firing" of the cinema, he went to see Roylance, with a man named Coles. Later he saw Rogers, and "accompanied by a look which frightened him off," he told him it was a very serious matter. All three were found guilty. Roylance was sentenced to four years' penal servitude, Hardy to three years, and Rogers to 18 months in the second division.

COMPANIES WINDING UP. (VOLUNTARY AND COMPULSORY LIQUIDATIONS.)

De Forest Phonofilm Co., Ltd.—At a meeting of the shareholders on December 1, at Carey Street, J. Barwick Thompson, Senior Assistant

Receiver, who, presided, said the company was registered as a private company in July, 1923, with a nominal capital of £50,000. In April, 1926, it was converted into a public company, and on July 15, 1928, it was decided to sell the whole undertaking to British Talking Pictures Ltd., a new company with a capital of £500,000 the first asset to be a large block of shares in the new company. In the three years 1926-8 the company lost respectively £8,000, £10,000 and £19,000.

The assets consisted of 463,376 shares in British Talking Pictures, which were estimated in the statement of affairs to realise nothing at all. Against this there was a sum of £5,861 due to British Talking Pictures for having met certain liabilities of the Phonofilm Co., accountants' fees of £162, solicitors' fees of £76, and also some money due to the Inland Revenue.

After discussion by the shareholders it was decided that the liquidation be left in the hands of the Official Receiver.

Kinsman and Ledger, Limited, film agents, 23, Bush Lane, Cannon Street, London, E.C.4.

The statutory meeting of the creditors of the above was held on October 31, when it was stated that the company had passed resolutions for voluntary liquidation and had appointed S. R. Worley as liquidator. The company was formed in April, 1924 with a nominal capital of £2,500. In January, 1929, debentures for £2,500 were issued for cash whilst various sums had been obtained on loan. The company recently dealt in talking machine apparatus which, however, had proved a failure. The assets were insufficient to meet the debenture holders' claims, and there were consequently no assets available for distribution amongst the unsecured creditors, whose claims amounted to £5,074 9s. 9d. The actual amount due to the trade was about £1,000. A Receiver had been appointed by the debenture holders on October 17, last.

Celebritone, Ltd.—At a meeting held by the Official Receiver of the creditors of this Company, 48 creditors to the value of £4,004, were in favour of compulsory winding-up; five creditors, to the value of £578, were in favour of winding-up under the supervision of the Court; and 38, with claims to the value of £4,257 voted that the voluntary winding-up should be continued.

The Official Receiver informed the meeting that he would make his report to the Court in the terms of the decisions.

British Phototone, Ltd.—On the company's own petition, Mr. Justice Maugham, in the Companies Court, on April 14, made an order for the compulsory winding-up of this company.

Mr. Radcliffe, for the company, said it presented the petition because it found itself in an impossible position. It was being pressed by creditors for some £3,000, and eight of them had threatened legal proceedings. The company only had £150 in cash.

Carlton Films (1929), Ltd., 17, Shaftesbury Avenue, London, W.1.

The winding-up order against this company was made on October 14, and on November 7 the statutory first meetings of the creditors and the shareholders were held. The chairman reported that the company was incorporated with a nominal capital of £100 in July, 1929. Guiseppe Guarane Glavany, a director, had stated that the primary objects of the company was the purchase of a film entitled "Down Stream," and to give it British nationality. The company adopted all the contracts into which he had entered on its behalf before the formation of the company. He himself was the producer, and the cost of producing that film was approximately £6,000. The Board of Trade refused to grant the film a British quota certificate on the ground that the initial contracts for the production of the film were entered into by him, Glavany, before the formation of the company. The Official Receiver was informed that as a foreign film the value was of little realisable value, and that since the introduction of the talkies, its value had further depreciated. No statement of affairs has yet been filed, but it is understood that the liabilities amount to some £5,000.

The liquidation was left in the hands of the Official Receiver.

Palladium (Newport), Ltd., The Palladium, Clarence Place, Newport, Mon.

Ranking liabilities of £2,834 11s. 6d. and no assets was the position disclosed by the statement of affairs submitted to the first meeting of creditors herein, held on April 29, at 34, Park Place, Cardiff. The failure was attributed to high cost of film hire, loss of trade, heavy overhead charges, high cost of film contracts, and competition.

Newport Amusements Limited, 155, Oxford Street, London.—Under the compulsory liquidation of Newport Amusements, Ltd., which lately carried on a cinema at Slow Hill, Newport, Mon., particulars have been issued by the Official Receiver of its promotion and collapse. The statement or affairs filed in the proceedings shows total liabilities £16,736 and no available assets. The total deficiency as regards shareholders is £21,581. The company which was formed in June 1929, acquired the "Pavilion" Slow Hill, which was reconstructed into a cinema with accommodation for 1,700 people. It was opened on October 28, but the attendance was only moderate, and the receipts did not come up to expectations. As a result the company were unable to pay the builders and the rent fell into arrear and various creditors for film hire proceeded against the company and obtained judgment. The failure was attributed to the high rates of film hire. The liquidator is Mr. A. H. Partridge, Chartered Accountant of 3, Warwick Court, Grays Inn, London, W.C.

Whitehall Films, Ltd., Whitehall Studios, Boreham Wood, Herts.—Under the compulsory liquidation of this company, G. D. Pepys (Senior Official Receiver) has issued a report upon the company's position, together with a summary of the statement of affairs which shows liabilities £33,915, of which £15,293 is due to creditors wholly unsecured. The assets are valued at £19,738, and the account with the contributories discloses a deficiency of £193,517, the issued capital being returned at £198,650, consisting of 800,000 rs. deferred and 158,650 preferred ordinary shares at £1 each.

According to the audited accounts for the period from November 2, 1927, to January 31, 1929, the company made a net loss of £31,245.

H. G. Howitt, C.A., has been appointed to the post of liquidator with a committee of inspection.

BANKRUPTCIES

Percy Alfred Adams, lately 27, Netherall Gardens, Hampstead, London, director of a film company.

A sitting of the London Bankruptcy Court was held on April 2, before Mr. Registrar Warming-ton, for the public examination of the above who returns liabilities at £3,313, and no assets whatever.

Replying to Mr. W. Gaine (Assistant Receiver), the defendant said that in July, 1926, he formed Northernhay Properties, Ltd., with a capital of £12,000 (the whole of which was allotted to him or his nominees as fully paid in consideration of services rendered) with the object of purchasing the Exeter Hippodrome and adjoining properties. For this purpose the company raised £18,000 on two mortgages; he (debtor) was appointed managing director of the company at a remuneration of £500 per annum, but resigned that post when a Receiver for the mortgage was appointed. He attributed his insolvency to the failure of Northernhay Properties, Ltd.

In further examination, the debtor stated that he had control of the company's business, but as the company was in liquidation its transactions would be investigated in due course by the liquidator.

The Official Receiver: I suggest that a material cause of your failure is personal extravagance.

The debtor emphatically repudiated any such suggestion, and added that the liabilities generally were owing to relatives. There was a claim to £2,240 by the Income Tax authorities, but it could not "hold water." It was his intention to put forward a proposal for the benefit of the creditors.

The examination was concluded.

William Edward Berry, "The Anchorage," Baildon, Yorkshire, company director.

The advent of talking films was the cause of failure attributed by the debtor herein, in his public examination on May 27. According to the statement of affairs there was a deficiency of £11,873, with gross liabilities of £31,395. The debtor was originally a printer. About 1925 a film distributing company was promoted, and he subscribed £450. The capital of the company was inadequate, and he advanced sums aggregating about £15,000. In addition he guaranteed the company's banking account to the extent of £9,000. Proceedings were eventually threatened by the bankers for payment, and he ultimately settled this claim together with other claims against the company totalling £14,527. The debtor incurred a liability of £6,000 as endorsee of bills of exchange on behalf of the limited company mentioned, in connection with the production of certain pictures. The contracts for silent pictures, and the rapid boom in talking pictures had precipitated his failure. The examination closed.

Oscar M. Sheridan, 40, Seymour Street, W.R.

Publicly examined at the London Bankruptcy Court on November 4, on accounts showing liabilities £2,134 (£1,965 unsecured) and assets £500. The debtor stated that from 1919 until 1924, he was employed in France with an English newspaper company, that afterwards, until 1926, he was engaged in the production of films and that he then returned to England. Early in 1930 he planned the organisation of a film which, under the name of "Big Business," was completed under his direction. The cost (approximately £8,500) was undertaken by a film company, and he retains a percentage of the anticipated profits subject to payment of the production cost. Early in 1930 he was sued for moneys due under an agreement. He disputed the claim but judgment was obtained upon which the present proceedings were founded. He attributed his insolvency to losses sustained in ventures in which he was interested, and to the fact that his interest in the film "Big Business" (not yet released) has no present realisable value, and to ill-health. The examination was concluded.

George Gibbs, company director, 10-11, Criterion Chambers, Jermyn Street, London.

The public examination of this debtor was held at the London Bankruptcy Court. The only liability is £429, due to the petitioning creditor, and no assets are disclosed.

Replying to Mr. Wheeler, Official Receiver, the debtor said that in 1927 he became a director of Universal Productions, Ltd., which promoted Anglo-International Film Co., Ltd. The capital was to be a million and three-quarters, and the company was intended to be a sort of merger of German film companies. Witness, acting on behalf of the proposed company, instructed Messrs. Price, Waterhouse and Co. to inspect and report upon a number of cinema theatres. The flotation, however, was abandoned; Messrs. Price, Waterhouse and Co. obtained judgment against him personally, and instituted these bankruptcy proceedings.

Further questioned by Mr. Wheeler, the debtor said he held a one-third interest in the world rights of the Horst Colour Film process, which was owned by Commercial Enterprise, Ltd., of which company he was also a director. Negotiations were in progress for the sale of the process for some £100,000, and he held a document certifying that he was the holder of a one-third interest in the rights. He had not disclosed that document to the Official Receiver because he placed no present value upon it. He had not been bankrupt before.

A solicitor in Court identified the debtor as having been bankrupt under the name of Sandford Rich, and the witness admitted that two previous failures were recorded against him in the name of Rich or Reich. His name was originally Reich, and was changed to Rich by Deed Poll in 1915. Since 1919 he had been known by the trading name of George Gibbs, and he had not been bankrupt in that name.

The examination was adjourned till July 24, to enable the Official Receiver to make inquiries into the previous failures.

Norman Healing Barger, The Lyric, King Street, Carmarthen; The Palace, Queen Street, Pembroke Dock, Pembrokeshire; late The Empire Theatre, Blue Street, Carmarthen, cinema proprietor.

The statement of affairs, which showed gross liabilities of £3,827 17s. 5d ranking liabilities of £1,272 8s. 2d., assets totalling £599 7s. 10d., and a deficiency of £673 0s. 4d., was submitted by this debtor when he appeared at the Guildhall, Carmarthen, recently, for his public examination. Owing to his overhead charges exceeding his gross profits he had been forced to file his petition. He would have been all right if he had not had to put in talking machine apparatus and renew the seats in his theatres. The hearing was concluded.

Robert Edgar Booth, Ludlow House, and the Coliseum Theatre, Gorleston-on-Sea, Suffolk, cinema proprietor.

According to the statement of affairs previously produced, there were liabilities of £2,901 1s. 10d., and a deficiency of £2,777 1s. 6d. The debtor said that when he leased the Palace Theatre at Gorleston he had not gone very deeply into the condition of the building, although he was aware that he was responsible for its repair. He said that he had done a considerable amount of replacement and redecorating, and had made improvements. He attributed his failure to litigation costs. The examination was closed.

Gerald Malvern, 52, Shaftesbury Avenue, London.

On March 28 the above debtor attended before Mr. Registrar Mellor, at the London Bankruptcy Court, for examination on accounts showing unsecured creditors £445 and assets £200.

In June, 1927, he assisted in the formation of British Controlled Films, Ltd., and was appointed subsequently technical managing director at a salary of £1,000 a year. He remained with the company until August, 1929 when, owing to differences with his co-director, he was dismissed. He commenced an action against the company for arrears of salary and damages for breach of contract. The action was heard after the receiving order was made, and he succeeded and obtained damages. He attributed his insolvency to his liability under a judgment in respect of a promissory note signed jointly with another person for which he had received no consideration, and to non-payment of salary due from the British Controlled Films, Ltd. The promissory note was for £50; he had decided to go into business with another person, and the money was used for the formation of a company, but the matter fell through. At the time he signed the note he could have paid his debts in full.

The examination was ordered to be concluded.

Sydney Joseph Flatau and Barnett Freedman, 6, Conduit Street, W., trading as J. Flatau and B. Freedman, and as J. Flatau, Temperance Hall Cinema, Northampton, cinema proprietors and company directors, attended on January 22, at the London Bankruptcy Court for public examination.

The accounts filed in the proceedings showed total liabilities £101,609, of which £40,651 is unsecured, and assets estimated to produce £40. It appeared from questions put to the debtors that they entered into partnership in August, 1912, primarily to carry on business as cinema proprietors, but on terms that each partner was free to enter into business transactions in his own name on behalf of the partnership. In all transactions carried out in this way each partner has been cognisant of the transaction of the other. The commencing capital was £600. Debtors were questioned at considerable length, and the examination of both debtors was finally closed.

G. G. Glavany, film producer, 17, Shaftesbury Avenue, London, W.1.

On Thursday, November 20, in the London Bankruptcy Court, the public examination was held of Giuseppe Guarino Glavany. The debtor's statement of affairs shows liabilities £7,668 (ranking £5,573) and estimated assets £925.

In March of last year debtor produced "Downstream," which was sold to a limited company. As, however, the film was not made by a British subject, the necessary certificate for quota purposes was not granted. In September, 1929, the mortgagees gave instructions for the film to be shown as a foreign production, but, owing to the introduction of the talkies it was not a success. Judgment for £546 was obtained against him for goods supplied and costs, and the proceedings in bankruptcy ensued. The examination was concluded.

MEETINGS OF CREDITORS.

The Deansgate Picture House and Cafe Rendez vous, Ltd., Manchester. At the meeting of the creditors of the above, held on October 24, it was reported that the liabilities to the Trade were £2,894 13s. 8d., and there were cash creditors for £19,693 6s. 2d., making a total of £52,587 19s. 10d. The assets were estimated to realise £8,054 12s. 8d., from which had to be deducted £3,023 2s. 4d. for preferential claims. The deficiency as regarded the creditors was £47,556 9s. 6d. It was reported that the company was registered in 1922 with a share capital of £5,000. Certain debentures were also issued. The company had suffered from severe competition and the introduction of talking pictures. The debenture holders held a floating charge over the whole of the assets, and as the interest was in arrears, the trustee decided to sell. The creditors passed a resolution confirming the voluntary liquidation of the company with the liquidator appointed by the shareholders.

Stanley Byres, 62, Creditor Hill, West Hampstead, London, kinema proprietor.

The first meeting of creditors was held on July 14, at the London Bankruptcy Court, under the failure of Stanley Byre, kinema proprietor, of 60, Creditor Hill, West Hampstead.

The Official Receiver reported that the debtor had stated in preliminary examination that in February, 1929, he entered into partnership with another, and they traded as the B. and C. Theatre Co. (the debtor's name being registered as the sole proprietor), at the Invicta Cinema, High Street, Chatham. They obtained a 21 years' lease of the premises, with an option to purchase in their joint names, and ran them as the Invicta Cinema. The debtor contributed his special knowledge of the film industry and his general business experience, and his partner provided a cash capital of £1,500, which he raised on loan from his bankers, to whom he gave his personal guarantee, and he further deposited with them the lease of the kinema as collateral security.

The case was left in the hands of the Official Receiver, to be wound up in bankruptcy.

Walter Hargreaves, "The Croft," Wigston Lane, Aylestone, Leicestershire, kinema theatre lessee, lately "The Bijou Cinema," Syston, Leicestershire, "The Empire Cinema," Barrowford, Lancaster, The Empire Cinema, Wilnecote, Warwickshire, The Palace Cinema, Enderby, Leicestershire, and the New Theatre, Winchester, Southampton.

At the first meeting of creditors herein, on August 14, at Leicester, the statement of affairs disclosed ranking liabilities of £1,188 10s. 1d. against net assets of £26 15s. 4d., a deficiency of £1,161 14s. 9d. The debtor attributed his failure to lack of patronage, keen competition, heavy overhead charges and lack of capital. The net loss arising from carrying on business from December 9, 1929 was £662. From 1919 to 1923 the debtor was employed as a kinema operator and theatre manager in various towns. He was then employed as an electrical engineer and in December, 1929, commenced business at the Palace Theatre, Enderby, with a capital of £150. He has carried on business at five theatres in all. The debtor stated that he had been unsuccessful from the start. Books of accounts have not been kept, but statements of weekly receipts and payments at each theatre were produced. He became aware of his position in June, 1930. Since last December the debtor borrowed about £900 from seven creditors, each of whom he employed as operator or manager at one of his theatres. These loans have not been repaid, and in six cases wages are still owing. The case being a summary one, was left in the hands of the Official Receiver as trustee.

Harry Pearl, 155, Oxford Street, London.

The receiving order against the above was made on September 4 on a creditor's petition, and on September 17 the statutory first meeting of the creditors was held at Carey Street, W.C.

The debtor, who estimates his liabilities at upwards of £20,000, and whose assets are a doubtful realisable value and probably will produce under £300, stated in preliminary examination that for the past eleven years he has been connected with the running of kinemas and the renting of film companies. The last company of which he was a director was one carrying on business at the above address and was now in liquidation. At present he was acting as manager under a five-year's contract with a kinema corporation at a salary of £25 a week. His liabilities were in respect of guarantees given in connection with the promotion of the Pavilion Cinema, Newport, also guarantees given on behalf of his late partner and liabilities in respect of an underwriting business in which he was interested in 1927. His insolvency was also due to continued illness of his wife and depreciation of shares.

Creditors passed a resolution for the appointment of Mr. F. S. Salaman, C.A., of 1 and 2, Bucklersbury, trustee.

Sydney Chaplin, film actor, described as late of Oddenino's Hotel, Regent Street, W.

The statutory first meeting of creditors of the above was held at Bankruptcy Buildings, on November 27, under a receiving order recently made on the petition of British International Pictures, Ltd.

The only claim lodged was by the petitioners for £12,782 in respect of damages for breach of contract, a judgment for that amount with costs having been given in their favour on July 31 last.

It was stated that Chaplin had not yet attended on the Official Receiver, and that he might possess assets in America. His affairs were left in the Official Receiver's hands.

Newport Amusements, Ltd., 155, Oxford Street, W.C. The statutory first meetings of creditors and shareholders of the above company (in compulsory liquidation) were held on March 5. The Official Receiver reported that the company was incorporated in June, 1929, with a nominal capital of £500, which was subsequently increased to £5,000. Prior to the formation of the company Harry Pearl, who became secretary to the company, ascertained that a building in Newport (Mon.) was available for converting into a kinema. Pearl conferred with Abraham Pearl, Harvey Segal and George William Pearson, and it was decided to form a company to acquire the premises and convert them into a picture theatre, with accommodation for 1,700 people.

It was opened on October 28, 1929, but the receipts did not come up to expectation. As a result the company could not keep up the instalments to the builder; the rent also fell to arrears, and various renter creditors obtained judgment on February 14. The debenture holder appointed a receiver and manager.

The failure of the company is attributed by Harry Pearl to the high rate of film hire, and the rather poor attendances. Owing to the statement of affairs not having been yet filed, the Official Receiver has no information as to the assets and liabilities.

Resolutions were passed in favour of A. H. Partridge, C.A., of Warwick Court, Holborn, being nominated as liquidator.

British Controlled Films, Ltd., 22, Basinghall Street, London.

The statutory first meeting of the creditors and shareholders of British Controlled Films, Ltd., were held on March 21, before E. T. A. Phillips, Official Receiver. The winding-up order was made on February 24, upon a creditor's petition, the company's registered officer being at 22, Basinghall Street, E.C.

The chairman reported that the company was incorporated on June 2, 1927, as a private company, to carry on business as distributors of and dealers in cinematograph films, etc. The nominal capital was £25,000, in shares of £1 each, and 10,547 shares had been issued all for cash.

A draft statement of affairs had been lodged showing liabilities £15,969, against assets £527, consisting chiefly of the company's interest, valued at £500, in a German film company. In addition there were some films in Egypt and Scandinavia which might bring in £120 to the estate. The failure of the company was attributed to the exhaustion of its funds in attempts to form a film distributing organisation.

The liquidation was left in the hands of the Official Receiver and a committee of inspection.

Thomassin Manufacturing Co., Ltd., inventors and manufacturers of "Naturetone" sound system, 40/43, Kirby Street, Holborn, E.C.1.

A meeting of the creditors was held on April 16, when Mr. Thomassin, managing director, reported that the company was registered on May 2, last, with a capital of £300, to carry on the business of cinematograph apparatus manufacturers and acquire the Fox water heater and also to develop certain ideas with regard to talking picture apparatus.

The capital of £300 was not sufficient for a programme of that description, and their original programme provided for a sum of about £2,000. Certain demonstrations were given with regard to the sound portion of the apparatus, and afterwards in the synchronising method, but the company were required to make an apparatus to take American films. An apparatus was fitted in the London Hippodrome, whilst various kinemas had been equipped with the disc apparatus. After a time the company found themselves short of working capital, and they were being pressed by creditors, and it was decided to call a meeting.

Trade liabilities amounted to £2,671 2s. 6d., whilst there were other claims amounting to £3,872 15s. The assets consisted of stock, £2,161, and there was a deficiency of £4,392 17s. 6d. Mr. Thomassin thought there was still a large future for the apparatus, and if it was possible to carry on in the future, profits would be made. It was eventually decided to appoint E. W. Viney, C.A., of Mansion House Chambers, Queen Victoria Street, as liquidator, with a committee of inspection.

Metropolitan Electric Theatres, Ltd., 225, High Road, Streatham, London, S.W.16.—Pursuant to Section 238 of the Companies Act, 1929, a meeting of creditors interested herein was held on August 6 at the Abercorn Rooms, Bishops-gate, E.C., when a statement of affairs was produced showing liabilities of £13,775 3s. 5d. and net assets of £120 os. 6d., or a deficiency of £13,665 2s. 11d. It was stated that there were, in addition, unascertained liabilities in respect of uncompleted contracts with film renters, and R.C.A. Inc., for the sound film equipment.

A resolution was passed confirming the voluntary liquidation of the company, with Mr. Bullimore as liquidator and a committee of inspection was also appointed.

Screen Art, Ltd., 22, Frith Street, W., cinematograph service publishers. At a meeting of the creditors, held on June 10, H. Granville White, the liquidator of the company, submitted a statement of affairs which disclosed liabilities due to the trade of £1,274s. 3d., and sundry creditors £780 2s. 2d. The net assets amounted to £1,380 15s. 7d., a deficiency of £426 10s. 10d. The company was incorporated in December, 1928, with a nominal capital of £50,000. The issued capital of the company was £10,000.

The creditors passed a resolution confirming the appointment of Mr. White as liquidator of the company. A committee of inspection was also appointed to act in conjunction with the liquidator.

W. E. E. Ltd., The Scala Theatre, Charlotte Street, London, W.1.

On November 14, at the Board of Trade Offices, the statutory meetings of the creditors and of the shareholders were held in the compulsory liquidation of W. E. E. Ltd., the registered office of which was the Scala Theatre, Charlotte Street, London, W. The winding-up order was made on the joint petition of Butcher's Film Service, Ltd., of Wardour Street, W., creditors for £26, and of the Fox Film Co., Ltd., of Berners Street, W., creditors for £50. The liabilities amounted to £18,313, and the assets were valued at £2 9s. 11d.

The liquidation was left in the Official Receiver's hands.

APPLICATION FOR DISCHARGE.

Reginald John Marks, 129, The Vale, Golders Green, Middlesex, who was adjudicated bankrupt in August, 1929, on February 14, applied to Mr. Registrar Mellor, at the London Bankruptcy Court for his discharge. The Official Receiver reported that the liabilities were £1,437, and the assets had produced £54. In December, 1926, he and a partner acquired the lease of the Gaiety Cinema, Church Lane, Leytonstone. He put in £200, but the venture was unsuccessful owing to keen competition. The partnership was dissolved in March, 1929. The liabilities were about £1,000 and there were no assets, and in consideration of his partner undertaking to pay the partnership debts, he gave him a bill for £35, payable March 1, 1929, and to pay him £400 out of future earnings, liabilities of £1,186 8s. 9d., and no assets. The Receiver opposed the discharge on statutory grounds, and his Honour suspended the discharge for two years.

THE KINEMATOGRAPH THEATRE.

Equipment and Technique in 1930

By A. LESLIE CARTER.

THE year 1930 has witnessed the triumph of the "talkies." Diehard champions of the silent film and those pessimists who were unable to envisage the box-office potentialities of the new development have been confounded, and the year closes with approximately 75 per cent. of kinemas in this country providing sound film programmes. It is safe to say that the majority of the remaining 1,000 unwired halls will succumb as soon as economic factors permit.

Although it cannot be denied that the financial difficulties confronting exhibitors who installed sound have been considerable, on the whole the changeover has proved substantially successful at the box office. Now in addition to the increased overheads caused by the necessity of installing sound equipment, exhibitors are faced by other inomentous problems which are consequent upon the rapid development of the wide screen and the coming of colour and, perhaps, in the indefinite future, television.

THE WIDE FILM.

According to reports from the C.E.A. branches, British exhibitors are vocally unanimous in their demand for concerted action in opposition to the wide screen. Notwithstanding this expressed attitude, however, there is little doubt but that its introduction or otherwise is entirely dependent upon its box-office appeal which at the moment, judging from American experience, cannot be claimed to be entirely worth the additional expense involved in production and presentation. At the same time the interest taken by exhibitors in the big screen achieved by the "Magnascope" principle does not suggest that an official bar would be wholly effective.

The "big screen" obtained by the employment of a wide-angle lens attachment to the ordinary projector has been in fairly common use for spectacular sequences in our larger picture theatres. Several firms, among them Taylor, Taylor & Hobson, Ross, and George Palmer have specialised in these units, which are operated in conjunction with an enlarged screen, the surround of which is unmasked simultaneously. The main difficulty of this method arises from the "blurring" of definition owing to the enlarged granularity of the projected image.

The case for the wide film is that it provides a wider sound track and at the same time achieves a 3-dimensional approach with increased visibility and the greater variety and depth in close shots. The wide film camera's depth of focus is said to preserve backgrounds clearly and sharply and the reduction in the number of cuts from long to medium shots will, it is claimed, result in greater continuity of action. The enlarged granularity of the projected picture does not arise because in the projection from wide film the images are enlarged only in the same proportion as the 35 mm. images on a standard screen.

In America plans for production on wide films are well advanced and several important subjects have already been shown by this method. Whether commercial results have warranted the increased expenditure it is too early to say. American producers have reached agreement on perforation standards and sound tracks, but there exists considerable division of opinion concerning total width and size of frame.

According to the S.M.P.E. the widths more favoured are 70 mm. and 65 mm. but there exists a tendency to make negatives on wide film and make reduced negatives on 35 mm. stock for showing on the standard projector fitted with a shorter focal length lens. The adoption of this method would obviate the spending of vast sums on production and exhibiting equipment, which it is estimated by an American authority would involve an additional charge to the industry of approximately £50,000,000. The view of the C.E.A., however, is that the cost to exhibitors would only involve a slight increase on present projection prices and the readjustment of seating.

The following comprises some of the chief wide film devices:—

MAGNAFILM (Paramount).

Stock 56 mm. wide, 19½ mm. high, necessitating a special optical head.

GRANDEUR (Fox).

Stock 70 mm. wide and 24 mm. high. Its use involves the scrapping of existing machinery of photography, progressing and projection, and possibly also the enlargement of the projection room.

SPOOR BERGGREN (R.K.O.).

Stock 60 mm. wide. Special production and projection equipment.

FEAR SYSTEM.

Uses standard stock, the picture being photographed perpendicularly to the length of the film, each picture occupying approximately the space of about two and a half the present standard markings. In projection rectification is by a prismatic optical device. In England, W. Vinten favoured this method.

VITASCOPE (Warner and F.N.).

Stock 65 mm. in width and 1/5th deeper than standard film. Requires an attachment to the standard projector, which can be installed within half an hour, a turn of a knob will adjust the machine from narrow to wide film projection.

SONO-ART (World Wide).

Stock 56 mm. wide, requires a projector attachment which can be installed within twenty minutes.

REALIFE. (M.-G.-M.)

Original negative is photographed on large film, approximately 2½ in. wide, in special cameras. It is then printed on standard film by an optical printer and is reduced with all detail. A lens attachment on the projector builds up the picture to desired width. It is announced by Sam Eckman, Jnr., that it is not proposed to place it on the British market at the moment.

FULVUE.

A British invention which consists of a two lens attachment to an ordinary camera which produces a lateral compression of the image, so that nearly three times the width is included in a normal frame. The picture is then expanded on projection by means of an attachment costing approximately £20.

In a paper recently read to the S.M.P.E. by A. S. Howell and J. A. Dubray, three sizes of screen picture were advocated: Economic (18 ft. by 30 ft.), Spectacular (22 ft. by 36 ft.) and Extreme (27 ft. by 45 ft.). Of the three, the Economic was advocated, the suggested width was 46 mm. which would give a sound touch of 5.08 mm., double the usual space. Width of camera aperture would be 30.76 mm., and that of the projector aperture, 28.76 mm.

The latest development in this connection is the official adoption by the S.M.P.E. Committee on Standards of the 50 mm. width for wide films. Provided the producers approve the decision, the width will be put into general use.

An American survey estimates that 60 per cent. of their kinemas lack space for screens of more than 24 ft. width. The proportion in England would be slightly higher, but it is significant that every new building is being provided with the necessary facilities, and wherever reconstruction takes place, provision is invariably made for the wide screen.

STEREOSCOPY.

The direct impetus which led to the development of the wide film was the achievement of stereoscopic vision. The wide film, as we know it, has abandoned these claims, although it appears that G. K. Spoor is still working upon his stereoscopic invention. In this connection it is interesting to note that he proposes to introduce the recording on the edge of the film instead of the surface. A device which is claimed to give depth of vision on the screen effect is being marketed by I.P.D., Ltd., and consists of an optical arrangement which is fixed in the front of the porthole.

THE PRESENT TALKIE SITUATION.

Notwithstanding the fact that there are only about 1,000 theatres now available for talkie equipments, the number of sound systems available is still increasing, the most recent newcomers offering sets at a price and promising a performance which a year ago would have been impossible. Many much-advertised sets have passed out, being replaced by more reliable equipments. These later purchasers of new installations have been able to avail themselves of the considerable drop in the prices of equipment.

In the early days, the fear was expressed that the chief obstacle to the popularisation of the "talkie" would be the poor quality of reproduction owing to the inefficiency of operators. How far removed from actual fact was this forecast a space of twelve months has proved. A great deal of admirable work was performed by the Renters' Sound Committee not only in the education of projectionists, but also in the insistence upon a standard quality of sound reproduction from various sound systems.

In some districts, members of the C.E.A. in conjunction with local education authorities instituted classes for projectionists, which, generally speaking, were largely attended. Excellent work was also performed by the British Guild of Projectionists, whose members eagerly seized the opportunity for self-education, and linked up for this purpose with the Renters' Sound Committee. Incidentally, owing to the general high level of reproduction, the Renters' Committee ceased to function with the close of 1930.

Equipment comprises two Will Day-Wilson sound heads, two gyroscopic turntables, two pack amplifiers, two photo-electric cells and two exciter lamps, one power amplifier, two exponential horns and one mounted speaker.

In selecting a sound equipment, the exhibitor should take into consideration the probability of sound-on-film superseding the disc method of film recording. Not only are transport and costs problems peculiar to the latter system, but the comparative simplicity of operation and, as some consider, the better tonal values of the sound-on-film should not be ignored. At the same time the large number of American halls still equipped only for discs renders it unlikely there will be any shortage of disc product for two years or so.

THEATRE CONSTRUCTION.

It is estimated that over 200 theatres were built in this country during 1930 as compared with 171 during the previous year, and the number of reconstructions has been largely in excess of that number, to say nothing of the 2,000 odd theatres at which the installation of talkies necessitated more or less alteration.

Generally speaking, the tendency is towards larger capacity theatres, averaging at approximately 1,500 seats, except in suburban London, in which are now situated some of the largest theatres in Europe. The capacity aimed at in these new constructions is near the 4,000 mark, although at the moment the number of theatres in this country seating over 3,000 persons does not exceed 10. According to Rothafel, the famous American showman, whose "Roxy" in New York seats 6,000, the limit in kinema size has been reached. Further development, he considers, will be in the direction of smaller theatres, more luxuriously appointed. In America the average capacity is 1,500, a figure in excess of the British average.

The design and treatment of all these building operations have been influenced by sound-film requirements. Nowadays an acoustically efficient theatre is essential. This important subject has been dealt with at length in the various issues of the Kine., by C.W. Glover, A.M.Inst.C.E., M.I.Struct.E. Among the several firms who specialise in the acoustic treatment of cinemas is Horace Cullum & Co., Ltd., whose Akoustikos sound-absorbing treatment is generally recognised as one of the most efficient methods of dealing with the sound reverberation problem in halls.

Chief among the recently constructed theatres is the New Victoria (P.C.T.), which seats 3,000. Designed by W. E. Trent and J. Walmsley Lewis it has been described by Robert Atkinson, F.R.I.B.A., as the finest kinema yet built. The exterior treatment expresses movement by the rather futuristic horizontal design. The wonderful interior decorative effect suggests an under-sea palace. The ceiling under the circle is notable for its design like a gigantic shell. Other theatres of note were the New Metropole (2,000), G. Coles, F.R.I.B.A.; Blue Halls, Edinburgh (1,830), T. Bowhill Gibson; Regal, Norwood (2,000), F. E. Jones, F.R.I.B.A.; Streatham Astoria (2,500), Finsbury Park Astoria (4,000), by E. A. Stone, F.R.I.B.A.; Paramount, Manchester (3,000), F. T. Verity, F.R.I.B.A.; Granada, Walthamstow (3,000), Cecil Masey, F.R.I.B.A.; Capitol, Epsom (2,000), R. Cromie, F.R.I.B.A.; Savoy, Brighton (2,500), R. Glen, M.S.I.A. The Forum, South Kensington (2,000), Stanley Beard and Clare, F.R.I.B.A.; The Sheen (2,000), Leathart and Grainger, F.R.I.B.A.; Trocadero, Elephant and Castle (4,000), George Coles, F.R.I.B.A.

PAINTING WITH LIGHT.

More money and time are being devoted to the decoration of the kinema than at any other period. There has been a reaction against the "atmospheric" type of hall although Mr. Stone's Finsbury Park Astoria and Mr. Jones' Regal, at Norwood, are remarkably interesting recent examples of this phase. The newer tendency is for decorators and lighting engineers to collaborate in schemes whereby the prime decorative effect arises from the skilful employment of coloured light alone.

The New Victoria is one of the most notable instances of this decorative theory, which has also been very successfully exploited in other London and provincial kinemas. At the Richmond Kinema (Leathart and Granger, F.F.R.L.B.A.) the Holophane equipment has been the source of great admiration, and considerable comment is occasioned by the institution of the Holophane automatic control, which permits of 672 sequences of colour lighting by setting the indicator.

I think it was Harold Ridge, the lighting expert, who visualised light painting as an integral factor in entertainments. Upon those lines electrical contractors have made wonderful progress during the year, as anyone who is familiar with the work of the Strand Electric and Engineering Co., the Berkeley Engineering Co., G.E.C. and others will appreciate.

In his new work on stage lighting Mr. Ridge urges the use of compartment type batteries and floats, with an efficient reflector and a system of colour mixing. Arcs are rapidly disappearing, he says, and with the new 20 kilowatt fan-cooled gas-filled lamps they are no longer needed even in larger theatres. The greater use of colour finds favour, and in some instances batteries are composed of separate units. Newer schemes allow for the separation of the control switchboard and dimmers and the control board, thus allowing the former to be located in the most convenient spot on the stage. Pre-set boards, he advises, should allow the pre-set of switches and dimmers.

The prevailing incertitude concerning the ultimate form the kinema entertainment will take has not led proprietors to neglect stage requirements. Most of the new halls are fully equipped in this direction and the present tendency to include presentations and variety seems to justify their foresight. Orchestras are gradually returning and at such theatres they are generally mounted on the stage in interludes.

Incidentally an interesting commentary on the disbandment of musicians is afforded by the fact that in June, 1930, the Cinema Musical Directors Association wished to be disbanded because only 5 per cent. of the musical directors were then in employment.

But if 1930 has been a dark year for musicians, organ builders have been particularly busy. The stand-by problem in talkie houses is solved by the introduction of the organ, the demand for which has been so great that at least one company—Compton (who supplied the New Victoria instrument)—has had to remove to more spacious premises at Chase Road, Acton. There have been many installations of the Christie, one of their latest, the Gaumont Palace, being claimed the largest in Europe. A remarkable organ is being put in at the Trocadero (4,000), New Kent Road, by Wurlitzer.

The increasing attention being paid to the comfort of the patron is reflected in the efforts of British seating manufacturers, the quality of whose product need not fear foreign competition. The furnishings of our most modern kinemas go to prove that in most cases the quality is as good and the price is considerably cheaper.

LOUNGE EQUIPMENT.

A feature of new constructions which has arisen from the demands of patrons and, in some instances, from local council regulations, is the generous space now allocated to waiting patrons. The furnishings of these lobbies and waiting spaces is undertaken with almost as much consideration as is given to the auditorium. In most halls a band repeater system is considered an essential, for it permits music to be simultaneously relayed from one source to any part of the premises. This relayed music is often a concomitant of a café, or more generally a soda fountain. An installation similar to that provided by Lumley's to the Astoria Circuit is a handsome piece of equipment, alike profitable to the theatre and a source of enjoyment to patrons. Another matter which has a direct bearing on this phase of theatre management is the selection of the ticket-issuing machine. An all-British equipment which has been brought up-to-date with modern requirements is the Accurate Check Taker, which has been made in London for 37 years. The latest model is an 8-way machine, the first of its size ever produced. Finished in chromium plate, the Accurate latest electric machine is proof against all breakdowns.

The selection of a loudspeaker for use either with talkie or non-synchronised equipment is a matter upon which the exhibitor needs to exercise keen judgment. Two types of loudspeakers which have been found suitable for kinema requirements are the Epoch, which has been adopted by the British Acoustic System, and which fills the largest hall with an input of 10 watts, and the Super Colassion which faithfully renders all frequencies from 100-6,000.

COLOUR.

A great increase in the number of colour productions to be shown in this country next year is promised, although British producers are not paying great attention to its possibilities. It has been rumoured that Technicolor, who acquired an interest in Moviecolour, Ltd. (Keller Dorian), will set up laboratories in this country, and Colorcraft of America is also credited with similar intentions. Progress is being made by Maurice Elvey with Raycol, a two-colour additive process, and British organisations are interesting themselves in a French process similar to Keller Dorian, which is said to have solved the problem of making copies.

Improvements in the quality of Technicolor have been noted. Sound prints are now made with a silver image sound track having a contrast or "gamma" of unity. It is said to be unpractical to control the "gamma" of the sound track as closely as this on black-and-white prints. Eastman Sonochrome tinted positive has been evolved to add colour to sound pictures and to surmount the problem presented by the ordinary tinted bases which absorbed the wave-lengths of radiation to which the P.E. cell is most sensitive.

TELEVISION AS ENTERTAINMENT.

The prospect of practical television came nearer in 1930 when a permanent equipment for two-way television was set up in America between the Bell Laboratories and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's offices, which are two miles apart. The following month television images by radio were shown as part of the regular performance at Proctor's Theatre, Schenectady, N.Y. A loudspeaker system was used to transmit the voices of the actors who performed before a television "camera" at the General Electric plant, at one mile distant. At the theatre the light impulses were reproduced first on a small monitor "Teloptikon," from which they were projected on to a screen 6 ft. square. The credit for the first run of television in a popular place of entertainment must, however, be given to Baird Television, Ltd., which from July 28th to August 9th demonstrated it on a screen 3 ft. by 6 ft. as part of the regular Coliseum programme. The first talking film to be televised was sent across from Long Acre, about a mile away, on August 8th. These serious attempts are only the beginning of things, but the success they achieved indicates that we must be prepared to face sudden developments in television.

STATUS OF PROJECTIONISTS.

One effect resulting from the talkies has been the directing of attention to the status and emoluments of the projectionists. The formation over twelve months ago of the British Guild of Projectionists has proved of great benefit alike to technicians and proprietors. Branches have been established in most of the key cities of the country, and the Guild now possesses an enthusiastic membership of over 500. By means of classes and lectures, the award of diplomas of merit, the qualifications of an efficient projectionist have been standardised, and it is a tribute to this self-help that the general council of the C.E.A. at its November meeting decided to recognise the Guild. There has also been a considerable accession of projectionists to the ranks of the E.T.U., whose action in connection with the wages and hours of operators has recently caused trouble in the Liverpool area. In this particular connection it should be mentioned that a Parliamentary inquiry into the hours and wages of kinema employees has been promised.

SAFETY IN THE THEATRE.

The terrible disaster which occurred on New Year's Eve arising from panic at a children's performance at the Glen, Paisley, involved the death of nearly 70 children, and at once focussed attention on existing safety regulations. The official inquiry declared that the immediate cause of the panic at Paisley was the ignition of a film in the rewinding room; the loss of life was due to a panic, and to the existence of a closed gate at the rear exit. The exits of the kinema were also criticised by Major Crozier, the Inspector, who drew attention to the lack of attendants and to children being allowed in gangways and galleries.

The occurrence led to a demand from many local authorities for the prohibition of inflammable films, and practically every licensing body revised its regulations in regard to children's entertainments upon lines laid down by the Home Office. Special notice was taken of the need to eliminate panic, and a scale of attendants per one hundred children was adopted in many instances, regular fire drill of the staff was insisted upon, and some authorities have gone further by insisting on the screening of special instructions at each performance.

One result of the Paisley disaster was the awakened interest of proprietors in the question of fire prevention appliances. Means may be taken for the rapid extinction of fire at the gate by the equipment of projectors with safety fire services, such as the Sentry Safety Control, the B. & M. control, and the Pyrene safety attachment. In addition to these precautions, more stringent inspection is now being carried out of the ordinary house installation, the hydrants and hose. Regular inspection is essential as well as careful consideration in selecting dependable products. Many kinema owners have found their requirements satisfactorily met by installing "Underwriter" fire hose, or some similar article with low leakage rate, high bursting pressure and extreme flexibility.

NON-FLAM FILM BASE.

Apart from possibilities of legislation requiring the use of non-flam base for commercial films, the increasing popularity of the educational kinema has revived interest in the non-flam product. Progress is being made by the Non-Inflammable Film Company, who are said to be establishing factories at Waddon for commercial production. A new process concerning which the promoters are very sanguine is sponsored by the International Safety Films, Ltd., which was formed in April. It is on a paper base, and is practically non-flam. It compares more than favourably with celluloid in respect to transparency, toughness and durability, and can be turned out at a competitive price. The patent is a Belgian one, and C. B. Hogg is in charge of the British distribution. Another non-flam base is owned by the Celloda Syndicate, who are said to be making arrangements for the production of a cellulose acetate base for which greatly increased flexibility and strength are claimed.

PROJECTION ACTIVITY.

The year has been an active one for all equipment factors, but the talkies have particularly favoured dealers in projection equipments. The adoption of sound has caused even the smallest houses to bring their projection into line with modern requirements, and some of the higher grades of sound reproduction have made this an essential before installation. The growing popularity of colour and the large screen has necessitated greater illuminative brilliance. Frank J. Brockliss, Ltd.'s new policy of specialising in illuminants has undoubtedly benefited by this new development, and Kershaw, Ross, Walturdaw, Hahn Goertz have found no less brisk a demand for their lamps.

One of the difficulties in the reproduction of sound films has been the control of volume, and the demand has been made for this operation to be made automatic. A solution of the problem has been devised by M.-G.-M., which has introduced a printing operation known as squeeze mat control, which incorporates an automatic fader which simply calls for the projectionist to start at the right volume by suitable prior adjustments of the fader: thenceforth control is automatic.

Considerable progress has been made during the year by Ship Carbons, whose new factory at Ilford was in full operation early this year.

20, MOUNT ST., GROSVENOR SQUARE, LONDON, W.1.

A new high-intensity arc is being introduced by Carbon Specialists, Ltd., 8 and 9, Great Chapel Street, W.1. It is to be marketed at a very reasonable price. This arc is notable for its simplicity of design, and for the employment of a magnetic field to keep the flame small, and thus increase efficiency. No mirror is employed, and maintenance costs should be very low.

A noteworthy projection installation of the year is that at the London Pavilion for "Hell's Angels," where the picture and the sound are projected from different machines. Ernemann II. projector fitted with Artisol H.I. mirror arcs and standard W.E. base project the film, and are coupled to a gear box which drives the sound equipment. This consists of an old type W.E. sound head fitted to a Simplex stand. For use with the large screen, an additional standard lens mount is fitted to the projector, which can be swung into position at a moment's notice without alteration to the projector.

The independent projector specialists now number Jack Roe, who has secured many important agencies, including that for the Weaver Auto-Dowser an improved change-over device, and a new wide angle projection and screen equipment.

THE INDEPENDENT PLANT.

Notwithstanding the promises of cheap electricity held out by the grid system, only a few exhibitors will not find it cheaper to instal an oil engine plant, while to the great majority its inclusion in the kinema plant will be found invaluable in the case of breakdowns of the town supply. Oil engine plant will produce current at a fraction of a penny a unit, and there are many happy users, who, on installing an oil engine generating plant, have found their power and light bill reduced by 60 per cent., and, in some cases, more. There are many makers of independent plant whose equipment, if it is carefully and intelligently handled, requires no skilled and costly attention. A most compact form of plant is the Petter oil-engined electric generating plant, which is extremely economical for kinema use—the files of the firm contain many tributes from more than satisfied users. Other advantages of the independent plant is that it costs nothing when not running, and in addition to the low running costs it involves the minimum of upkeep. Other well-known types of oil engines which have rendered satisfactory service to exhibitors are the National, Ruston-Hornsby, and Crossley.

THE YEAR IN THE STUDIO.

The revolution in our studios attendant upon sound-recording requirements has been drastically completed. It has demanded the reconstruction and remodelling of most of the older studios. In this country RCA recording equipment is generally used, the most important installation being at the B.I.P. Elstree studios. One of the finest equipments is the W.E., installed at the B. and D. studios at Elstree. British Acoustic recording is installed at Lime Grove, and great hopes are held of Visatone, manufactured under Marconi patents, which Sir Oswald Stoll selected for his studios at Cricklewood. Good reports are heard of the Fidelity equipment at Walton Hall. H.M.V. is not now interested in recording, the only gramophone company which is apparently actively engaged in this direction being Vocalion.

The noise problem of the studio has given a great impetus to the employment of incandescent lamps in British studios, where at one time they were almost universal. Elstree is practically G.E.C. equipped, the average lighting of a set being 400 foot candles. For overheads and banks it is general practice to use 6 to 12 lamps (1,500 watts) in a fan-cooled single aluminium reflector. Another interesting incandescent equipment is the EFA, installation of Welwyn. The heat problem, however, is very real, and one method to overcome it has been the use of larger camera aperture, which, by reducing illumination, eliminates a large proportion of heat.

The high actinic value of arc illumination, and the modern tendency for hard shadows, cannot be overlooked, and the success of research into methods of silencing the arc suggests the restoration of this form of illumination to favour. Arcs are now being made with light choke coils which eliminate commutator ripple. Much work in this connection has been done by Korting and Mathiesen. A new silent arc has recently been developed in Hollywood which, it is claimed, can be placed within two feet of the "mike."

CAMERAS.

There has been a great advance in the quality of sound-recording due to the greater flexibility of the "mike," and to the disuse of the cumbersome sound-insulated camera booth in favour of the sound-proof camera. The new noiseless Debie is in great demand. Made of a new alloy in two sections, the upper housing slides showing the camera inside the lower section containing an A.C. synchronous motor. Lenses up to 6 in. focus may be employed, and it can be adapted to carry 1,000 ft. reels. Debie have also been responsible for the Paramount 65 millimetre camera, printing, apparatus, etc. Practically all the standard makes of film cameras have been similarly redesigned for talkie work. Wide films threaten further developments. The Mitchell camera, made to take Grandeur stock, differs from the standard model in the shutter, which is practically double the size. The pitch is .231 in., against .187.

The N.S. auto-kine camera, which has been described as the most marvellous clockwork-driven camera in the world, also deserves mention. It holds 200 ft. of standard film, and drives upwards of 150 ft. with one wind of the mechanism.

PRINTERS.

A new continuous printer has been designed by W. Vinten, and is interesting in that, in addition, it is automatic so far as changing the lights are concerned. The new Debie printer combines the operations of printing of sound and picture. A simple and ingenious attachment to the standard Debie "Matipo" printer enables the printing of the two records to be carried out on the same machine in one operation, either from the same or from two negatives.

THE EXHIBITIONS.

The success of the equipment exhibition at Blackpool suggests that this year's show will be on a more ambitious scale than hitherto attempted. It is evident from the experience of the firms who take part that in selected areas the C.E.A. equipment exhibition is essentially a good business proposition. At the same time, with the exception of optical manufacturers and makers of education apparatus, the British Industrial Fair has not been adequately supported by makers of kinema equipment, a state of affairs which lends interest to the suggestion made recently in the Kinematograph Weekly that British manufacturers should combine in a co-operative attempt to bring their products more forcibly to the notice of overseas buyers.

HOME AND PORTABLE TALKIES.

The sweeping success of the talking film has directed attention to its possibilities in the home, and there are existing one or two combined radio-gramophone and talkie equipments, as, for instance, the Debie and the Visiontone apparatus. Dr. Lec de Forest is said to have completed a 16 mm. apparatus for sound on films. Many others are experimenting. There has also been a great impetus in the demand for portable equipments for standard films, an RCA set has been on the road visiting unwired houses, and there has been a great demand for the Western Electric portable, which is contained in four suitcases. Owing to the small space required, these are film equipments. A recently introduced set is the Associated sound portable, which is being manufactured by Kershaws, of Kalec projector fame. There are, of course, the 16 mm. continuous projector equipments such as the B. and M. continuous projector, which use a continuous band of non-flam film, and are employed mainly for advertising purposes.

The manufacturers are appreciating the market for equipment which exists among the many amateur film societies, the growth of which has been a notable feature of the year's activities. Not a few of their programmes are ambitiously conceived and embrace talkies.

SOUND-SCREENS.

In the modern sound-equipped kinema, the screen is a vitally important factor in the quality of sound-reproduction. Exhibitors and technicians are fully aware of the effect of the screen on the acoustics of a theatre and much experimentation in this direction has taken place.

From the early introduction of the talkies it was evident that the sound transparent screen was uneconomical in respect of illumination. A new type of screen, which is claimed to give an additional 35 per cent. to the brilliancy of the picture, has just been introduced by Western Electric. It consists of a fireproofed, perforated, chemically treated fabric, and is said to eliminate frequent cleaning and re-fireproofing. Excellent sound and illumination results have been recorded from a new rubber screen installed at the Stoll, Kingsway, an increase in brilliancy of 50 per cent. having been claimed. The screen material resembles American cloth, but is actually of rubber composition perforated with tiny holes. Both these screens are of American manufacture.

British companies are also conducting considerable research into this subject. The Superlite Company are manufacturing a sound screen of similar material to the silent article, but perforated with a number of small holes all $1/16$ in. in diameter. The Superlite white and silver screens are all adapted for sound, and the Perlato beaded screen has been similarly successfully utilised. Success has also been achieved by the Perforated Front Projection Screen Co., and, of course, for rear projection, the Patent Fireproof Rear Projection Screen Co. is very popular. Both these latter are now controlled by E. G. Turner, associated with Walturdaw since its foundation.

An excellent example of the coarsely woven screen is afforded by the Bulman-Jupiter screen known as the "Audifilm," the interstices of which allow the sound to filter through while at the same time reflecting the incident light. The Bulman-Jupiter Company has long specialised in screens for all purposes, and all theatre requirements are readily met.

A new type of sound-transparent which is also British made was recently demonstrated in the West End. In appearance it is of the familiar type studded with numerous small glass beads affixed to a silk back cloth, which is perforated. Sound transmission and illumination was excellent and the projection amperage required was reduced by one-third.

The formation last year of a London section of the American Society of Motion Picture Engineers proved to have met a want long felt in the Trade of a centre organisation for the interchange of views and the transmission of knowledge among technicians. Under the chairmanship of Simon Rowson, the British membership has grown to over 120, and the meetings, at which the papers read have been of a high order of technical ability, have been well attended. Towards the end of the year, however, there was evidence of a certain amount of dissatisfaction with the parent organisation, whose dictatorship of the internal affairs of the London S.M.P.E. was resented. The differences of opinion were discussed at a meeting early in December and it was decided by 24 votes to 2 to secede and to reorganise the London section on a basis of independence. It was also arranged to hold a meeting early in January, at which a British Society of Kinema Engineers will be formed.

COLOUR AND THE BOX-OFFICE.

The subject of colour cinematography is one of great importance, but even the most ardent advocate of the "natural colour" film will admit that, notwithstanding the undoubted progress made during 1930, it still leaves much to be desired. The ideal form of colour cinematography—the three-colour process—has so far not been achieved, and the existing two-colour systems, satisfactory as they may be to a certain extent, are still deficient in rendering the full colour range demanded by the patron of the moving picture. Progress, however, is still being made, especially in the scientific branch of the work. And these experiments are of the utmost importance to the exhibitor side of the Industry, for the demand for a greater illusion of reality to which colour contributes will undoubtedly be reflected at the box-office.

THE WIDE SCREEN.

I have dealt with the subject of the large screen earlier in this article, but as this Year Book goes to press the conclusions arrived at in well-informed circles seem to suggest that that the wide screen and the wide film are not the bogies which original information would have led us to believe. In America the appearance of the wide screen has led to no box-office revolution such as followed the first introduction of the talkies. And the reaction of the public has not been such as would warrant the vastly increased costs which this new development would ensure. According to Arthur Dent, managing director of Wardour Films, executives of all American units interested in the wide screen have declared a "moratorium" for two years. Consequently it is evident that British exhibitors need at the present moment have no fear of the wide screen in any form.

TO KEEP LENS GLASSES FROM STEAMING.

Rub on them lightly a very little spermaceti wax, and polish it off well with a clean dry silk rag. A better way is to dissolve the wax in a small quantity of benzine, drop a single drop of the benzine-wax solution on a clean silk and with the silk proceed to polish over the lens glass. The polished glass must not show any visible trace of wax upon its surface, or the definition of the picture thrown by the lens will be injured.

Allow to dry naturally. The prepared announcement slides may afterwards be stored indefinitely. Before writing on them with the needle or graver, breathe over the surface, and the finest lines may then be put in without a suspicion of flaking.

FOCAL LENGTH OF LENSES.

To find the focal length of two not over widely separated lenses, multiply their focal lengths together and divide the product by the sum of the focal lengths less the distance between the lenses. The formula is :—

Focal length to be found = $\frac{f_1 \times f_2}{f_1 + f_2 - d}$ where d = lens separation.

TO FIND SUPPLEMENTARY LENS FOCUS.

To find what focus of supplementary lens will be needed to alter to a given amount the focus of a lens at present in use, multiply the focal length to be altered by the focal length wanted, and divide by the original focal length less the final focal length. To reduce focal length, use a positive (convex) lens. To increase focal length use a minus (concave) lens, and carry the minus sign into the formula. Putting the rule into a formula, where f_1 equals original focal length, f_2 required focal length of supplementary lens, and F the final focal length desired, then :—

$$f_2 = \frac{f_1 \times F}{f_1 - F}$$

Thinking of Colour Lighting ?

Then it must be Holophane!

Cutting from Kinematograph
Weekly,
13th November, 1930. ➤➤➤

“ EXHIBITORS contemplating lighting installations are reminded that the Holophane system is a distinctive and unique method of lighting which is the exclusive property of Holophane Ltd., and that the term ‘Holophane’ must not be applied to any system or equipment other than that supplied by Holophane Ltd.

I suppose it is a compliment that the words ‘Holophane System’ is now in general use as descriptive of any three-colour lighting system. At the same time, it must be perturbing to Holophane Ltd., that this phrase may also be loosely descriptive of inferior and inefficient equipment which simply because it is three-colour lighting is termed ‘Holophane.’ ”
